Biden blitzkrieg continues

Races past Trump in Pennsylvania; recount set to be ordered in Georgia where he now has a narrow lead; also ahead in Nevada

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

DEMOCRAT Joe Biden on Friday got within kissing distance of the White House as he overtook President Donald Trump in the vote count in the big battleground states of Pennsylvania and Georgia.

The two states have 20 and 16 electoral college votes respectively and their vote tabulation is expected to end by Friday. Biden needs just six to reach the halfway mark of 270. However, Georgia's Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger indicated a recount. "With a margin that small, there will be a recount... "The final tally in Georgia at this point has huge implications for the entire country," he told CBS News. If Biden wins Georgia, he would be the first Democrat to flip it since Bill Clinton in 1992. Biden is also ahead in Nevada that has six electors, but its final vote tally is expected to take a few more days.

A desperate Trump continued haranguing the tabulation of mail-in votes, since most of them are expected to be Democrat-leaning. It is these postal votes that snuffed out his leads in Pennsylvania and Georgia. "They're trying to rig an election, and we can't let that happen," he argued, but several media networks cut off telecast of his briefing at the White House midway as he charges were unsubstantiated. In contrast, Biden was measured and presidential in his response: "No one is going to take our democracy away from us. Not now, not ever."

Trump's aides initiated legal challenges in several states, but judges in Georgia and Michigan threw them out, putting his campaign's legal strategy — to attack the integrity of the voting process — in disarray.

Trump also stood isolated even within his Republican party. His sons Don Jr and Eric articulated the frustration, accusing the party of being "weak", adding "Our voters will never forget you if your [sic] sheep!" "The total lack of action from virtually all of the '2024 GOP [Republican] hopefuls' is pretty amazing," Don Jr tweeted. P11

K'TAKA BACKTRACKS ON CRACKER BAN, CM APPEALS FOR GREEN CELEBRATION

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Begaluru

COMING under severe fire from party leaders and supporters over his government's decision to ban firecrackers this Deepavali, Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa took a U-turn — from banning it to appealing that only green crackers be used.

On Friday morning, Yediyurappa said that the government had decided to prohibit the use of firecrackers this year, given the pandemic situation. Within hours of the announcement which brought appreciation as well as criticism for the CM, Yediyurappa issued a statement later "appealing" to people to use green crackers.

"The government has held discussions and has decided to prohibit the use of firecrackers this Deepavali. A decision has already been taken and orders will be issued soon. Only for this year, given the Covid-19 pandemic and other issues, firecrackers will be prohibited," the Chief Minister said on Friday morning.

Hours later, he issued a statement saying, "Many suggestions have come in from the public over the sale and use of crackers this Deepavali. The government is doing everything to contain Covid-19. Given the situation, it is deemed fit to celebrate Deepavali in a simple, meaningful, devotional manner keeping public health in mind. In this regard, it is requested that only green crackers are used."

Can't rule out larger conflict with China: CDS

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

A larger conflict with China cannot be ruled out, Chief of Defence Staff (CDS) Gen Bipin Rawat, the senior-most military officer in the country, warned on Friday.

"In the overall security calculus, border confrontations, transgressions and unprovoked tactical military actions spiralling into a larger conflict cannot, therefore, be discounted," he said.

China's People's Liberation Army is facing "unanticipated consequences" for its misadventure in eastern Ladakh, thanks to Indian forces' firm and strong response, he said. "Our posturing is unambiguous. We will not accept any shifting of the LAC", General Rawat added.

The CDS was delivering a keynote address at a webinar on 'India's National Security-The Decade Ahead' at the National Defence College. P10

TRADERS SEE RED OVER GREEN DIWALI

Say they have invested big money, order on green crackers came too late

CHETANA BELAGERE @Bengaluru:

THE Karnataka government's decision to allow bursting of green crackers this Diwali may have brought some respite to traders, wholesalers and manufacturers of the fireworks industry, but association heads claim that only 10 per cent of crackers are certified as 'green', and a majority of those procured from wholesalers for the retail market could be regular crackers.

It is said that green crackers cause 30% to 35% less emission. The Wholesalers' Association in Karnataka claims that only about 600 of 1,070 companies in Sivakasi, Tamil Nadu, the country's cracker manufacturing hub, have procured licences from CSIR-NEERI and the Petroleum and Explosives Safety Organisation (PESO).

"Though the order was revised, we cannot celebrate as all firecrackers sold in the market have to be green, CSIR-NEERI and PESO-certified. A small-town trader will not know what the certification means. When officers check the products, they will deny him a licence or take action against him for selling a counterfeit one. How will this help us?" questioned Rajendran T, member, Karnataka Wholesale Dealers' Association.

Terming the government's last-minute revised order "inconsiderate", fireworks manufacturers, retailers and traders claim it is just "eyewash" and they would suffer losses anyway.

"We might even see traders and wholesalers end their lives. Traders have already pledged gold and raised loans to pay manufacturers. Now, they will have to declare bankruptcy. They can't procure or manufacture more green crackers at the last minute," said AIFFA.

This year, as every year, wholesalers and retailers purchased firecrackers from Sivakasi manufacturers (at 18 per cent GST).

Naveen Gupta, a retailer on Avenue Road, said the government is playing with the lives of people. "I picked up a large quantity, as the government never mentioned that only green crackers will be allowed. We can neither repay loans nor reinvest," said Naveen.

Karnataka accounts for about 40 per cent of the country's fireworks sales. V Raja Chandrashekaran, president of the Federation of Tamil Nadu Fireworks Traders, said Karnataka has a minimum of 50,000 traders, and Benglauru has around 2,000 traders. "It is difficult for traders to change their orders now. Green crackers are expensive and only a few varieties have got permission. Not all those in the market with a 'green label' are actually green," he said.

PIC FOR REPRESENTATION ONLY

Experts Speak

Epidemiologists and health experts say there should have been a blanket ban on crackers in the state. "This partial ban will not help in any way. There is pollution even with green crackers. There might be many fake products, claiming to be green crackers, which could be hazardous for Covid-19 patients and those with respiratory illnesses," said a senior epidemiologist, on condition of anonymity.

WHAT ARE GREEN CRACKERS?

Small, shell-sized low-emission crackers developed by scientists at CSIR-NEERI, as per Supreme Court order in 2017

Raw materials used to make green crackers are less harmful, contain mainly barium nitrate and additives which reduce dust

Have no banned chemicals such as lithium, arsenic, barium, lead

Come in two categories: One without barium salt, a chemical considered indispensable for fireworks industry; the other with low quantity of barium

Have oxygen cylinder at home? Be extra careful

CHETANA BELAGERE @Bengaluru

IF you have an oxygen cylinder at home, think twice before you light up a cracker this Diwali. While the state government has given permission only to burst green crackers, doctors warn that bursting any kind of crackers with oxygen cylinders in houses is dangerous.

Oxygen cylinders, which many people have been purchasing or taking on rent for Covid-positive patients under home care, are extremely sensitive and can actually blow up like a bomb, doctors said.

Dr Satyanaryana Mysore, senior pulmonologist, Manipal Hospitals, explained that oxygen does not burn, but works like an oxidizer that supports combustion. "If fire starts within three metres of a oxygen cylinder in your house, then it can create a blast and feed the flames. It can even blow up your home like a bomb," he said.

According to experts, after the state government insisted on home isolation for asymptomatic and mildly symptomatic Covid-19 patients, many people have been purchasing or renting oxygen cylinders. In Bengaluru alone, oxygen cylinder banks store about 150 to 200 units and at least 60 to 70 are rented on a daily basis.

"People are not aware of the safety requirements for oxygen cylinders. Even lighting a diya next to a cylinder can cause a fire. People have to be extremely cautious," said Rajendra Sharma, a oxygen cylinder supplier. He added that even an open flame or a heating source like a candle, or a gas stove, within three metres of a oxygen cylinder is risky.

Health experts are rooting for a complete ban on fire crackers, and with the government allowing bursting of green crackers, they are advocating that people should take the responsibility and refrain from bursting of crackers.

"Especially in dense areas of Bengaluru, where houses are very closely built, it is easy for disasters to occur. ," Dr Gopikrishna K, a senior doctor, advised.

Panel favoured cracker ban

THE U-turn came as an afterthought, given that Medical Education Minister Dr K Sudhakar said the decision was a well thought-out one. "Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa has taken a decision to ban crackers during this Deepavali based on the recommendation of the Technical Advisory Committee of the Health Department. Let us celebrate simple Deepavali this year. The smoke due to burning crackers will have a negative impact on people's health, especially those who have recovered from Covid-19 infection.

The technical advisory committee had submitted a report in this regard. The CM has taken the decision based on the report," the minister had said. Karnataka, which was set to join the list of states like Rajasthan, Odisha, Sikkim and Delhi, which have banned firecrackers owing to the pandemic situation, has now rolled back its decision. The decision comes at a time when the state has been recording more than 3,000 new Covid-19 cases on an average for more than a week now.

Learn Kannada at your doorstep

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

AIMING at non-Kannadigas in Bengaluru who are residing mostly in apartments, the State Government is coming up with a unique initiative to teach them Kannada language at their place of residence. The Kannada Development Authority (KDA) will be the facilitator and weekend classes will be conducted for those interested.

There are thousands of apartment complexes, especially at IT hubs like Sarjapur and Whitefield, and also in Mahadevapura, Bannerghatta Road, Rajarajeshwarinagar, East Bengaluru and other places, where a large number of non-Kannadigas reside.

KDA chairman T S Nagabharana said, "Other than basic online Kannada teaching , KDA is planning to conduct Kannada classes at these apartments."

The KDA has created teams of volunteers which will visit local apartments to check if people show any interest in spoken Kannada classes. "They will also be listing out volunteers in their areas to teach the language. We are expecting the results of the survey by November-end," he added.

Apartment complexes where at least five to 10 residents show interest in learning Kannada will be identified. "Classes will be free and KDA will even pay a nominal remuneration to volunteers who teach," he said. On Thursday, Nagabharana launched the logo for the "Kannada Kaayaka Varshacharane", a year-long event to popularise Kannada.

THe KDA has developed a e-learning portal where one can learn Kannada online anywhere. Interested apartment associations or volunteers can visit the KDA website https://kannadapraadhikaara.karnataka.gov.in.

Mid-air snag forces flight to return

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A LUFTHANSA flight, which left for Frankfurt in Germany from the Kempegowda International Airport (KIA), Bengaluru, on Thursday morning, developed technical glitches mid air and returned to the bay safely within four hours.

As per information on the airline website, the Airbus 333-300 aircraft left at 3.44 am, nine minutes behind schedule.

It was supposed to reach Frankfurt at 9.25 am (local time) the same day after completing a trip of 10 hours and 20 minutes.

In a statement, the airline said, "Lufthansa flight LH755 from Bengaluru to Frankfurt has returned to Bengaluru Airport shortly after take-off due to technical reasons."

The flight had a normal landing at 7 am at KIA airport, it said. "Lufthansa will rebook all passengers to other flights as soon as possible," the statement added.

The Airbus A333-300 is a twin-jet, long haul aircraft that can carry up to a maximum of 255 passengers. The airline did not provide information on the number of occupants in the flight.

The next Lufthansa flight to Frankfurt from Bengaluru will depart at 3.35 am on Saturday.

07th November : If you think that it's a coincidence that Saturday - Saturn's Day - comes before Sunday - Sun's Day - then think again. In the ancient world Saturn was known as the star of the Sun, and the fact that the one was so faint and the other so bright suggested that between them they linked all the possibilities open to humanity.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)

Now that relationships are assuming a greater importance, it is time to ask whether you are really aware of what partners or loved ones are thinking or feeling? Do make an effort to see life through other people's eyes. After all, if they see you taking the initiative, they'll feel more prepared to reciprocate.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)

Opportunities for growth and progress frequently pass you by but, then, is there any reason why you should be forced to change? You'd do just as well to go for sheer pleasure and self-indulgence. After all, at this stage in the week's proceedings, I'm sure you could do with a break.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)

You have been amazingly patient in the past and have allowed things to take their own course. But you must now buck your ideas up and see to it that you are in the driving seat. Financial developments are also helpfully aspected, as a matter of interest - so do your best.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)

It really doesn't matter whether your motives are financial and professional or purely personal. All that is important is that you recognise that you won't get very far if you try and go it alone. Teamwork is the key, and your generosity will get you everywhere.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)

Today's misunderstandings may well be deliberate. It's possible that people will be determined to misread your intentions purely for the hell of it. Perhaps they just want to prove their independence. But what they don't realise is that you've got the edge at the moment.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)

This does indeed look like a busy period. You may not have much time off over the weekend, but do bear in mind that there are ways to cut corners. A snappy financial move could find you well in pocket. But it's your inner, private values which require most attention.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)

Family members are a mite touchy and much depends on your ability to take personal slights and rebuffs in your stride. If at all possible, do move ahead rapidly with potentially startling developments at home. And involve family members as much you can.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

You will be happy to hear that not all your efforts have been in vain. One planetary aspect is dramatic and revolutionary, the other lively and irreverent. Clearly, this is no time for faint hearts. But, then, after all that has happened I think you understand perfectly well what is going on.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)

Your lunar alignments, which are primarily responsible for shaping your day-to-day mood, are basically favourable. Social costs may be higher than expected, but if you're happy to splash out, I can see no particular problems. Past resentments should be just that - past.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)

Obviously, it goes against the grain, but radical moves may be essential. I don't think you can afford to sit still any longer. Weekend or no, do spare a little thought for professional ambitions. Many of you are by now seeing the rewards for all your hard work.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)

Shopping trips and spending expeditions are at the top of the agenda, and those with a long-term perspective should check up on pensions and investments. A matter of principle, a legal question or an overseas matter may require immediate and urgent attention.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)

You may be a little out of your depth, but family members should rally round. The only friction seems to revolve around friends and acquaintances, but one social encounter could be electrifying. Money matters are slightly dodgy, but if you're in a gambling mood take a risk, if only for the experience.

Govt mulls revamp of 108 services

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE state government is mulling a revamp of Karnataka's 108 ambulance service to ensure seamless and timely availability of vehicles to those in need, Health and Medical Education Minister Dr K Sudhakar said on Friday.

"The current system has a lot of loopholes. There is a need to correct them by adopting modern technology and global standard operating systems," he said. The minister held a meeting with representatives of Infrastructure Development Corporation (Karnataka) Limited (iDeck), experts and senior officials to deliberate on the draft terms and conditions of the contract.

The government aims to ensure a system wherein an ambulance arrives at the required destination within a few minutes of a call being received. The call centre should be able to identify dispatch the nearest available ambulance. An app similar to cab aggregators Ola or Uber was also discussed.

"There have been several instances of people using other vehicles after calling several times and finding ambulances were unavailable in an emergency. Such instances should not repeat. We do not need vehicles which look like ambulances but do not serve the purpose. Every rupee spent should be useful to public," Sudhakar said. It was also discussed in the meeting that only technically and financially strong companies be allowed to bid through global tenders.

Reimbursements for Covid-19 tests delayed, pvt labs cry foul

Labs in B'luru to be paid in a week, rest of the state by end of November, say officials

RANJANI MADHAVAN
@Bengaluru

IN yet another struggle between the government and private health establishments, the latter have alleged that delay in reimbursements for bills of government-referred Covid tests have hit them financially.

On October 16, the state fixed the cost of an RT-PCR test at Rs 800 for government-referred samples and charges for transport of such samples to private labs at Rs 400.

The chief executive officer of a private lab in Bengaluru said they had not been reimbursed for four weeks. Also, the lab initially did pool testing, meaning five samples were tested in one go. If the result came back positive, the five samples were tested individually to ascertain which ones contained the virus. "For the repeat test, the government refused reimbursement and said the price they fixed was all inclusive. This is a huge loss for us," he said, adding that the reduction of test rates from Rs 2,250 to Rs 2,000 in July and then to Rs 800 had also affected their business.

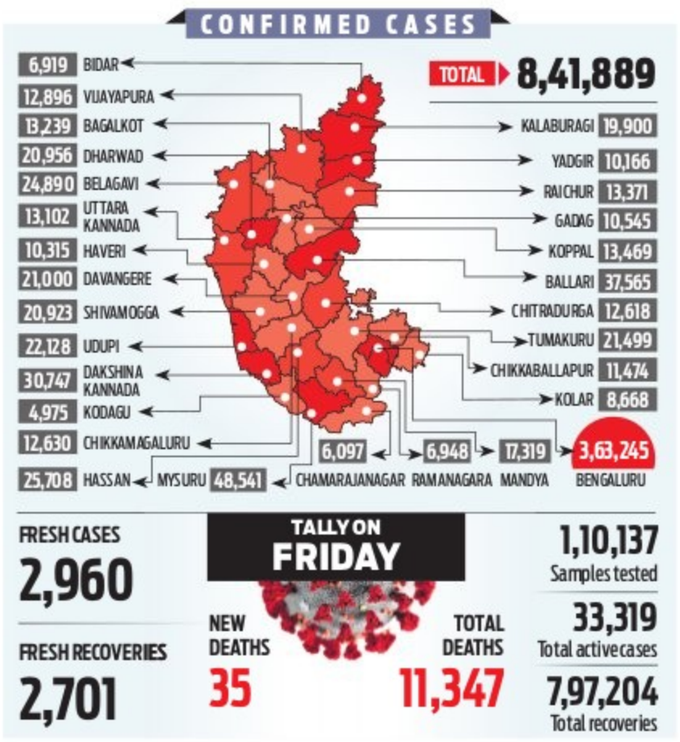
Private labs say they have not been reimbursed in months | EXPRESS

The principal of private medical college said they too face a similar problem: "We have been actively involved in testing, but the government has not reciprocated for the past five months. The government owes us Rs 29,700 for RT-PCR tests but we have not received a single rupee. The situation is similar in several medical colleges in the city which were forced to set up Covid labs when the government made it mandatory."

He said they had spent Rs 1.5 crore to set up the lab. Reduction in test rates and delay in reimbursement had left them at a loss. Before rates were reduced, they made a profit of Rs 200-300 per sample, he said.

Managing Director of the National Health Mission Arundhati Chandrashekar said all reimbursements for labs in Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike area would be done within a week and for other districts by the end of November. She said that earlier, districts made payments to labs directly with money sanctioned to them from the NHM, diaster management fund, and District Mineral Funds. "Later, deputy commissioners told us that the funds had dried up, so we asked them to send the bills to us. For this, they need to certify which samples are government-referred and which are ones private, so that the correct ones are sent to the NHM for reimbursement. This is taking time," she said.

Another reason for the delay was that the districts have to separate samples for which payment has already been made, from those which are yet to be paid for.



Mysuru requests equipment upgrade

AJITH M S @Mysuru

WHILE a vaccine against Covid-19 is awaited, Mysuru district is leaving no stone unturned to revamp its infrastructure, so that when a vaccine is ready to administered, the health department functions like a well-oiled machine.

Immunisation is done through a cold chain system, wherein the vaccine is maintained at the required temperature from the time of manufacture to the point of administration.

District authorities have written to the government requesting an infrastructure upgrade, said sources. They have put in orders for 80 big Ice Lined Refrigerators (to store vaccine doses), 23 small ILRs, 80 big Deep Freezers (to store ice packs that will be used to maintain temperature in transit), 23 small DFs, 70 cold boxes (used to store vaccine dozes with ice packs for transfer to primary health care centres from district centres), 970 vaccine carriers (boxes in which dozes are taken from PHCs to the field), and 2,100 ice packs.

The existing equipment is functional, but a revamp has been sought as many government hospitals have small ILRs and DFs that need to be replaced with larger ones. Also, some equipment does not meet environmental standards.

Currently, Mysuru has 177 ILRs, 176 DFs, and 116 cold boxes across 168 cold chain points. District authorities say this equipment is adequate to immunise health workers.

The experience of vaccinating eight lakh children against measles and rubella in one month in 2017 will come in handy. "The Covid vaccine is expected to come in stages. Hence, we will be able to manage," the source said.

The challenge would come when high-risk groups, and eventually the whole population are to be vaccinated.

Post bypoll, 50 test +ve in Sira

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Tumakuru

FIFTY people in Sira have been asked to isolate themselves at home after they tested positve for Covid-19.

The government has directed that 20% of the population be tested as part of a drive to check the spread of the disease following the bypoll in Sira assembly constituency which saw huge crowds during campaigning.

As on Friday, the government had tested 3,768 people, and most of those who tested positive were asymptomatic.

People in all 35 gram panchayats and urban areas falling in the assembly segment will be tested by 45 teams formed for the purpose.

Over 45,000 people will be tested until November 14, with a focus on those who participated in rallies. As many as 135 health officials and gram panchayats staff will be involved in the process, said Taluk Health Officer Afzal Ur Rehman.

"Taluk office officials on election duty were tested and their results were negative. Police and other staff too will be tested," said nodal officer Dr Sanath.

Delhi trip after bypolls results: CM Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa on Friday said, "I will speak to BJP national President JP Nadda on November 11 and visit Delhi post that over cabinet expansion." The cabinet expansion is also expected to double up as a reshuffle with at least four incumbents being dropped to make way for new faces

₹4,636 crore for skill devpt: State, Tata Tech join hands to upgrade ITIs

First-of-its-kind initiative of government-industry partnership; each of the 150 ITIs to get ₹30 cr

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TATA Technologies Ltd has joined hands with the Karnataka government to develop 150 government Industrial Training Institutes (ITIs) by investing over ₹4,000 crore.

Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa termed the agreement, signed on Friday, as a first-of-its-kind initiative of government-industry partnership that will enable youth to get good quality skill training based on industry requirements. The initiative is part of the government's continued efforts to ensure ease of doing business, and the agreement is mutually beneficial as the industry will have a skilled workforce.

As per the agreement, signed by Anand Bhade, president, Tata Technologies, and S Selvakumar, Secretary, Department of Skill Development, Entrepreneurship and Livelihood, ITIs will be upgraded by investing ₹4,636.50 crore. Tata Tech and 20 other companies are contributing ₹4,080 crore from their CSR funds, while ₹657 crore will be provided by the State government. Each of the 150 ITIs will get ₹30 crore for upgradation.

Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa at the signing of an MoU between the state government and Tata Technologies Ltd on Friday

New infrastructure, industry-oriented courseware, training and support for advanced equipment and software to benefit students to get better employment opportunities will be provided at ITIs. Students from other such institutes too can avail of the facilities. While 300 trainers from Tata Tech and associate industries will train students at the upgraded institutes, online training will be provided in all government and aided ITIs in the State. In the first phase, ITIs at Peenya, Hosur Road, Ballari, Mysuru, Dastikoppa and Shikaripura will be upgraded.

Deputy Chief Minister Dr C N Ashwath Narayan said the initiative is expected to help over one lakh youth get better employment opportunities every year. Based on the requirement of the industry, ten new courses are being added at ITIs, he said. Warren Harris, Managing Director and CEO, Tata Tech, said their vision of 'Engineering a better world' is to create a platform for students to be part of the transforming ecosystem and get exposure to the latest machinery, hardware, software and training.

There are 1,713 ITIs in the state. Of them, 270 are government, 196 aided and 1,247 private with 1.8 lakh students.

Industrious plan

- ₹30 crore each will be invested to upgrade 150 government ITIs: Total investment: ₹4,636.50cr
- ITIs will be developed into skill training hubs with new machinery and technology
- Syllabus will be based on demands of industry
- Electric vehicles, agricultural machinery, aerospace and defence, horticulture, smart city and other sectors would be the focus
- Tata Tech will strengthen training, counselling and placement cells

BJP LEADER'S MURDER

Arrest puts Vinay Kulkarni's political career at crossroads

PRAMODKUMAR VAIDYA
@Hubballi

CALL it a political conspiracy or due process of law, Congress leader Vinay Kulkarni, arrested in the BJP leader Yogishgouda Goudar's murder case, is now at the crossroads of his political career. His alleged link to the case has already cost him two elections and now he faces an uncertain future.

Yogish was being projected as a political opponent of Vinay in the Dharwad assembly segment and both were at loggerheads over several issues concerning the constituency. This political enmity was later projected as personal rivalry after Yogish was hacked to death. Since it was found rewarding for the saffron party, top leaders in the district used it quite strategically to cut Vinay to size politically.

While BJP leaders were attacking him over the issue, Vinay played the Lingayat card leading the separate religion status movement. But an effective campaign by the BJP succeeded in convincing the public that Vinay was taking the cover of caste to hide his alleged links with the killing of another Lingayat leader. A video of his alleged manhandling of a doctor at KIMS Hospital had gone viral embarrassing the party.

The BJP got a tough candidate in Amrut Desai, who was earlier with JD(S), to fight against Vinay in the 2018 Assembly polls. Vinay's alleged link with Yogish's murder had been turned into a main poll issue.

While the party again asked Vinay to contest the 2019 general election at the behest of Siddaramaiah to take on Pralhad Joshi, the demand for a CBI probe on Yogishgouda's murder was at the peak as the Dharwad bench of High Court had just dismissed a plea filed by Gurunathgouda, slain BJP leader's brother. The BJP leaders promised a probe by the Central agency if the party came to power.

A file picture of Vinay Kulkarni being arrested by the CBI

In the election, Vinay tasted another bitter defeat as he was trounced by over two lakh votes by Joshi despite him playing the Lingayat card forcefully.

Following the setback, Vinay went into political wilderness. His name resurfaced a few weeks back, while speculation was rife over his joining the BJP to save his skin from the investigation.

District Congress leaders showed solidarity with him by expressing anguish over his arrest, but Vinay never enjoyed good relations with them.

The CBI has charged Vinay under Sections 302, 143, 147, 148 and 120 B of IPC Code, related to conspiracy for murder and other serious charges

Cong leader sent to CBI custody for three days

ENS @Dharwad

THE third Additional District and Sessions Court on Friday remanded Congress leader Vinay Kulkarni to three-day CBI custody, but put a few conditions to the central agency. Vinay has been lodged at Hindalaga jail. The CBI arrested Vinay on Thursday to question him on his alleged role in BJP leader Yogishgouda's murder and he was sent to one-day judicial custody. As the judicial remand ended on Friday, the CBI insisted that he should be sent to three-day custody which was agreed to by Justice Panchakshari M.

Court sources said that the CBI has been asked to allow family members to meet Vinay and let him go for counseling. The CBI has charged Vinay under Sections 302, 143, 147, 148 and 120 B of IPC Code, related to conspiracy for murder and other serious charges.

Earlier, CBI sleuths questioned Vinay Kulkarni's brother Vijay and their relatives at a suburban police station. They were let off later in the afternoon.

Seer meets Vinay family

Jaya Mrutyunjaya Swamiji of Koodalasangama Panchamasali Peeth visited the house of Vinay to extend moral support to his family members. He said that Vinay is innocent and it will be proved soon.

HC sends back assests case against Ravi to special court

ENS @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has set aside the order of a special court referring a private complaint of disproportionate assets against Kannada and Culture Minister C T Ravi to the Anti-Corruption Bureau (ACB) for investigation.

The high court sent back the case to the special court to give an opportunity to the complainant, AC Kumar, to file an affidavit in support of his allegations against Ravi, who is also the BJP National General Secretary, as per the directions of the Supreme Court.

The court also granted liberty to Kumar, a resident of Chikkamagaluru, to file a complaint before the ACB as allegations made by him pertain to offences under the Prevention of Corruption Act.

Justice John Michael Cunha recently passed the order, partly allowing the petition filed by Ravi questioning the order dated October 6, 2016 passed by the special court to refer the case to the ACB and submit a report by January 5, 2017.

Kumar filed a private complaint in 2012, accusing Ravi of possessing assets disproportionate to his known sources of income between 2004 and 2010. His known sources of income in the period was Rs 49 lakh, while his assets were Rs 3.18 crore, he alleged.

The Supreme Court in 2015 issued directions mandating the complainants to file affidavits in support of their complaints or allegations to make them liable for prosecution if they are false.

Ravi moved the high court seeking to quash the entire proceedings on the ground that the complainant has not filed an affidavit in support of allegations.

KUNCHATIGA SEER CALLS ON HDK FAMILY, SETS OFF BUZZ

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @Tumakuru

WHILE political pundits and the three major political parties are busy making their own assessments of the Sira bypoll outcome, a quick visit by Kunchitiga Vokkaliga seer Nanjavaduta Swami of Pattanayakanahalli Spatikapuri mutt to former CM H D Kumaraswamy's residence in Bengaluru on Friday, sparked off speculation.

Kunchatiga Vokkaliga seer Sri Nanjavadhuta meets ex-CM H D Kumaraswamy

After exchanging pleasantries, the seer also had a word with Nikhil Kumaraswamy. Kumaraswamy's wife Anitha and Nikhil's wife Revathi were also present. Though the seer had chosen not to cast his vote, indications were that he might have sympathised with the JDS.

The JDS leaders are also banking on clinching a majority Kunchatiga Vokkaliga community votes, as it had supported late B Sathyanarayana. His wife Ammajamma is the party candidate for the bypoll. "JDS patriarch H D Deve Gowda had pitched tent in the constituency, which will help get more Vokkaliga votes in favour of Ammajamma. After realising this, the spirit in BJP camp dampened on polling day itself," said Belli Lokesh, a JDS leader.

This apart, the families that got title deeds under 'bagair hukum' land scheme when Sathyanarayana was the MLA and 15,000 people who got benefited from the loan waiver declared by H D Kumaraswamy have also voted for the JDS, he claimed.

But the BJP, which has fielded Dr C P Rajesh Gowda, is banking on the SC (left) community votes. Deputy DCM Govinda Karjol and Chitradurga MP Anekal Narayanaswamy had campaigned aggressively to garner the community votes.

The AHINDA grouping has been the traditional vote bank of Congress candidate T B Jayachandra, former CM Siddaramaiah, former DyCM Dr G Parameshwara and rebel Congress leader K N Rajanna helped logistically.

Kusuma visits Chamundi Hills, confident of victory

Mysuru: RR Nagar by-election Congress candidate H Kusuma is on a temple run ahead of the counting day on November 10. She visited Chamundi Hills along with her father Hanumantharayappa and offered a special puja to the deity on Friday. Local Congress workers, who received Kusuma and other leaders, claimed that she will win the bypoll with a comfortable margin. "The love and affection shown by voters and the support of all party leaders has helped me win people's trust in the RR Nagar constituency. The authorities have conducted fair polls as per expectations. People have voted for change and development and I thank Congress leaders for putting up a united show," she said. ENS

Ajay Singh flays govt over Land Act fiat

ENS @ Kalaburagi

CRITICISING the government for bringing in an ordinance on the Land Reforms Act for the second time, Jewargi MLA Dr Ajay Singh said it will trouble farmers of the State.

Singh said the government seems to be bent on grabbing agricultural land from farmers. "Though the State is facing many problems, including flood, Covid etc, the government has made the Governor sign on the ordinance on the Land Reforms Act for the second time a couple of days back by getting the nod at the Cabinet meeting," a statement said.

He said the Janata Bhumi Adalat, headed by former HC Justice Nagamohan Das and environmentalists Yellappa Reddy and Nagesh Hegde, had opined that the Land Reforms ordinance is against the Constitution and should be withdrawn. The organisation had reached this conclusion after holding Janata Adalats, Singh said.

MLA Anjali loses to rival Patil in DCC bank election

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Belagavi

IN a surprise development, Congress MLA Anjali Nimbalkar suffered an unexpected defeat in the election to the Belagavi DCC Bank board of directors held here on Friday against her nearest rival and former MLA Aravind Patil. Both the leaders had contested from the Khanapur constituency of cooperative organisations.

A group of BJP leaders, headed by Deputy Chief Minister Laxman Savadi and Water Resources Minister Ramesh Jarkiholi, had ensured the election to 13 of the 16 seats unopposed. On Friday, the polls were held for Khanapur, Ramdurg and weavers' constituency on Friday where supporters of Satish Jarkiholi (Congress) and BJP were in fray.

Anjali Nimbalkar

Despite herding 28 members from various cooperative organisations of Khanapur to a private resort in neighbouring Maharashtra a few days ago, Nimbalkar could not muster the 27 votes she needed to win the seat. At the last moment, three members from her group defected to the rival side and Patil secured 27 votes against Nimbalkar's 25.

Nimbalkar had entered the fray with the support of Satish Jarkiholi and expected to become the first woman director of DCC Bank.

Soon after the results, Nimbalkar said she would continue to work for the welfare of the cooperative sector in Khanapur constituency. She denied that any member from her group cross-voted in favour of Patil. "I am happy that I have been able to put up a brave fight in the election even as many men leaders teamed up against me," she added.

To ensure elections unopposed in all the constituencies, the BJP group had tried to persuade Nimbalkar but in vain. The BJP group supported Patil, who was the director of DCC Bank for the last three terms, from Khanapur region. From Ramdurg, Shrikant Dhaval, who was also supported by the BJP group, won, while from the weavers constituency, Krishna Ramling, supported by Satish Jarkiholi won the election.

CM discusses rehab plans for dam project evacuees

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Shivamogga

CHIEF MINISTER B S Yediyurappa on Friday met senior officials of various departments to discuss rehabilitation of evacuees of Sharavathi dam project.

The CM, holding a meeting at his office in Bengaluru, asked revenue and forest department officials to conduct a joint survey and to give title deeds to farmers cultivating 9,773 acres of land in Shivamogga, Shikaripura, Soraba, Sagar, Hosanagar and Thirthahalli taluks.

He directed the officials to file a petition before the SC to get individual pahanis (Records of Rights, Tenancy & Crops) for evacuees. He told forest department officials to provide no-objection certificates for roads that are under construction by the tourism department under PPP. He instructed officials to cut trees that were grown in the forest area of Mysore Paper Mills to pay salaries of MPM staff.

State will LED the way in streetlights, to cover entire state

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IF everything goes according to plan, Karnataka will be the first State in the country to adopt LED streetlights across the State. Over the next six months, some parts of Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) and ten mahanagara palikes will get LED streetlights, reducing power consumption by a large extent.

The ambitious plan of replacing nearly five lakh streetlights in Bengaluru with energy-efficient LED lights was announced in 2018. At present, the BBMP spends close to Rs 250 crore per annum in paying bills and maintaining streetlights. With LEDs, the power bills and maintenance costs will come down drastically. A senior BBMP official said that in the first phase, one lakh streetlights will be replaced and the work is expected to start by the year-end and will be completed by April 2021. The BBMP has already completed the survey of streetlights in a few zones and the rest will be covered soon.

The Urban Development Department is taking up the project in ten mahanagara palikes.

Urban Development Minister Byrathi Basavaraju told The New Indian Express that they have already started the process in four Mahanagara Palikes of Mysuru, Mangaluru, Tumakuru and Davanagere. "We have called for tenders in Davanagere and Mangaluru, and will do it for Mysuru too," he said. It is expecting to cover all the ten mahanagara palikes over the next six months. "We were supposed to complete the project by this year, but could not because of Covid," he added.

Once the project is implemented in mahanagara palikes, it will be taken up in city and town municipalities. "The entire state will be covered in a phased manner, and once done, we will be the first state to have LEDs from one end to the other," he said.

Wall collapses due to rain, kills cook

Thursday's rain claimed the life of a 19-year-old cook after a compound wall collapsed on him, when he was asleep in a shed, at a construction site in Mahalakshmi Layout. Two of his friends escaped with minor injuries. The deceased has been identified as Puran Poojari from Bihar

CCB heading to AP in search of Sampath Raj

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IT's been more than a week since former mayor R Sampath Raj, accused in the DJ Halli violence case, is absconding after leaving a private hospital in the city. He has been repeatedly shifting his base, dodging Central Crime Branch (CCB) sleuths.

Special CCB teams have visited places in Kerala and Maharashtra looking for him, but returned empty-handed. Now, they are heading to Andhra Pradesh, sources said.

Last Saturday, four special teams went to Kerala to nab the former mayor. They had also questioned his relatives to track his movements. On October 29, Sampath Raj escaped from a private hospital in Hebbal, and police searched his house in Cox Town soon after. A CCB officer said a technical team is working on tracking his movements, which showed him moving from one state to another.

Meanwhile, Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai spoke to reporters on Friday, saying that the special teams have clues about Sampath Raj's whereabouts, and he will be arrested soon.

Raj allegedly planned his escape from the city on October 26 along with his former driver, and they hired a cab for this. He was admitted to a private hospital, but absconded soon after his discharge. Meanwhile, the CCB issued a notice to the hospital for not informing them about the discharge.

B'luru restaurants to give up smoking zones for better biz

As nation observes Cancer Awareness Day, experts welcome the move

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WHILE the Global Adult Tobacco Survey - 2 (GATS-2) reveals that 14 per cent of adults were exposed to second-hand smoke at restaurants in Karnataka, many outlets which were allowing smoking on their premises, either by setting up a Designated Smoking Area (DSA) or not, have decided to become 100 per cent 'smoke-free'.

Against the backdrop of National Cancer Awareness Day on November 7, 'Kaara: By the Lake', a cafe located at Ulsoor, has gone 100 per cent smoke-free and does not permit smoking on its premises anymore. "Going 100 per cent smoke-free will result in good health of customers, staff, and increased business," says Radha Nair, owner of the restaurant.

"Families prefer to dine-in at places which do not allow smoking. Children, women, and senior citizens feel uneasy when exposed to tobacco smoke. We felt that we could free the smoking zone to allow more customers, rather than wasting this space for an activity unhealthy for both customers and staff," she said, adding that she was hopeful that more cafés and restaurants would go smoke-free to boost business.

Cancer cases likely to spurt to 15.7L by 2025

Based on current trends, cancer cases are likely to go up to 15.7 lakh by 2025 from 13.9 lakhs in 2020, as per the recent National Cancer Registry Programme Report 2020, released by The Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR) and the National Centre for Disease Informatics and Research, Bengaluru recently.

An NGO fighting for the regulation of tobacco products said that lately, more restaurants have been going 'smoke-free'. "This change in the mindset of establishment owners is that they want more family customers to dine-in and don't want to compromise with the health of their employees, who were otherwise exposed to 'second-hand smoke', making them more prone to cancer and related disorders," a release said.

Oncologist and member of the High Power Committee of the state government, Dr Vishal Rao, said, "Smoke from tobacco products contains harmful chemicals which can have adverse effects on the cardiovascular system. It can lead to coronary heart disease, stroke, and several cancers. It is admirable to see some restaurants becoming 100 per cent smoke-free. It is high time that other restaurants take a cue and follow."

Prez fake profile case: High Court upholds order letting off accused

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court upheld the sessions court order discharging a Mysuru youth from a case of forgery of electronic record and defamation, registered by the office of the then President Prathibha Patil, for allegedly creating her fake profile on orkut.com.

Dismissing recently the criminal revision petition filed by the Economic Offences Wing Police Station, New Delhi, against the sessions court order, Justice KS Mudagal said proceedings against the accused only on the basis of the IP address was futile. The sessions court was wholly justified in holding that there were no grounds to proceed against the accused Avinash R Kashyap, she added.

The prosecution contended that the accused created a false profile of the President. But the FSL report, which is part of the chargesheet records, disclosed that necessary data was not found in the hard disk of his computer.

Counsel for the accused contended that as per the chargesheet, the broadband connection was given to the accused on July 7, 2007, whereas the alleged profile was created on June 30, 2007, before Prathibha Patil was appointed President on July 25, 2007. Merely on the basis of IP address, the accused cannot be connected to the crime.

Barun Mitra, Joint Secretary, filed a complaint on February 26, 2009, before the DCP (Security), Rashtrapati Bhavan, alleging that somebody has mischievously created a false profile of the President on Orkut. The contents of the profile were objectionable, defamatory and lowered the dignity of the President.

The petition was filed before the high court, praying to set aside the order dated January 22, 2016, passed by Additional District and Sessions Judge, Bengaluru Rural District, which discharged the accused.

BJP state president L Murugan participates in the Vel Yatra from Koyembedu, in Chennai on Friday | R SATISH BABU

BJP defies TN govt orders, takes out Vel Yatra

State unit chief Murugan and others, including natl general secretary C T Ravi, taken into custody, let off later

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

ON a day of high drama, the police thwarted BJP State unit chief, L Murugan, and other party leaders' attempt to carry out Vetrivel Yatra from Tiruttani, defying government orders. They were taken into custody and let off after few hours. After the release, Murugan asserted that the Yatra would continue in other parts of the State and expressed disappointment over the government's denial of permission for the same.

Among others taken into custody and released later were BJP's national general secretary CT Ravi, senior leader H Raja, former Union Minister Pon Radhakrishnan, State vice-president K Annamalai, and former State president CP Radhakrishnan. Functionaries and cadre were taken into preventive custody in other parts of the State as well, and released later.

At 9am on Friday, Murugan, clad in a saffron shirt and green dhoti, with plenty of vibhuti (holy ash) on his forehead and holding a Vel in his right hand, left for Tiruttani to launch the yatra.

Murugan and his team were stopped by the police at Nazarathpettai near Poonamallee, but allowed to continue after they claimed they were on their way to offer prayers at the Murugan temple there.

> The main agenda of this Yatra is to expose the DMK and its true colours. All our efforts will aim at sending as many MLAs of the party to the Assembly
> L Murugan, BJP State unit chief

This had some of the cadre believe that the government had finally given permission for the yatra, upon which they distributed sweets among themselves.

However, the police department clarified that was not the case. Upon reaching Tiruttani and offering prayers at the temple, Murugan addressed the party cadre and spoke about the importance of the Yatra. However, as soon as he tried to take out the procession, police personnel intervened and took them into custody.

Murugan, in his speech, had targeted the DMK, for having "insulted" the Hindu sentiments. "The main agenda of this Yatra is to expose the DMK and its true colours. All our efforts will aim at sending as many MLAs of the party to the Assembly. The BJP-led alliance will only form the next government in the State," he said.

Reiterating his earlier contention that the Yatra was aimed at exposing those acting against the Tamil culture and insulting the Kanda Sashti Kavacham, Murugan said, those behind the Karuppar Kottam Youtube channel have not yet been arrested.

Amazon announces ₹20,761-cr new hub in Hyd

AIHIK SUR @ Hyderabad

IN the largest ever foreign direct investment (FDI) in Telangana, Amazon Web Services on Friday announced the launching of its ₹20,761 crore ($2.77 bn) new hub in Hyderabad, which the company is aiming to make operational by the middle of 2022. The new AWS Asia Pacific Hyderabad will consist of three Availability Zones (AZs) at launch and later will join the existing nine AWS regions and 26 Availability Zones across Asia -- in India, Australia, Greater China, Japan, Korea and Singapore.

Availability zones comprise multiple data centres in different locations at enough distance to significantly reduce the risk of natural disasters or similar calamities. Each Availability Zone comprises independent power, cooling and physical security, and connected via redundant, ultra-low-latency networks.

According to Amazon Web Services, the launch of the AWS Asia Pacific Hyderabad Region will provide customers with even lower latency across southern India. This new centre will enable more developers, startups and enterprises as well as government, education and non-profit organisations to run their applications and serve end users from data centres located across the country.

IT and Industries Minister KT Rama Rao tweeted: "Happy to announce the largest FDI in the history of Telangana! After a series of meetings, AWS has finalised an investment of ₹20,761 crore to set up multiple data centres in Telangana. The @AWSCloud Hyderabad Region is expected to launch by mid 2022."

The minister, who had met the AWS officials during his Davos visit early this year, leading to the subsequent investment, said: "We are pleased that AWS has chosen Telangana as the location for its second region in India. Hyderabad is an important talent hub for IT professionals and entrepreneurs and with the increased adoption of cloud computing, we are set to see a transformation in the way businesses in south India harness the power of IT. Combining the unique resources of Telangana with AWS, the world's leading cloud, will boost economic development, power digital-led innovation and establish a cloud centre hub for the rest of the country."

Puneet Chandok, President, Commercial Business, Amazon Internet Services Private Limited, said that Telangana was chosen as the location for its second hub due to the availability of a successful startup and enterprise ecosystem.

FOOD FOR ALL

Midday meal grains to be given in two phases

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA
@Bengaluru

THE state has decided to provide 108 days worth of foodgrains for midday meals which were supposed to be distributed from June to October. However, due to logistical reasons, they have decided to divide the distribution into two phases. During the first phase, which has begun, grains for June to July (53 days) will be distributed and in the second phase, grains for August to October (55 days) with be distributed.

> At present, the Karnataka Food and Civil Supplies Corporation Ltd has already raised an indent for the first batch of grains
> Anbu Kumar, Commissioner of Public Instruction

"At present, the Karnataka Food and Civil Supplies Corporation Ltd (KFCSC) has already raised an indent for the first batch of grains. The purchase process is underway," Commissioner of Public Instruction Anbu Kumar said.

As per the SOPs issued, in the first phase, students from Classes 1 to 5 will receive a daily quota of 100 gm of rice or wheat and 58 gm of tur dal. Students from Classes 6 to 10 will receive 150 gm of rice or wheat and 87 gm of tur dal. Students from Class 1 to 8 will get rice on 45 days and wheat on eight days. while students of Classes 9 and 10 will receive rice on all 53 days in the first phase.

Some of the other SOPs issued state that the present inventory of food grains in the godowns can be used for the programme provided they are inspected by the inspection committee.

The SOPs for the second phase of distribution will follow later. The decision for the phased distribution of grains was decided after education and Akshara Dasoha officials held a virtual meeting on November 4. The department said that there will be a shortage of space for the storage of the purchased grains for 108 days, hence, a phased manner was more viable.

The State government has already released Rs 449 crore to the department towards the distribution of foodgrains that were not given to the children studying in government and aided schools in the state under the midday meal programme for the period of June to October.

Anganwadi education to be systematic

ENS @Bengaluru

DEPUTY Chief Minister Dr C N Ashwath Narayan said that henceforth, anganwadi-level schooling will be systematised. He was speaking at the concluding ceremony of the Anganwadi Teachers Training on Friday.

"Children will be systematically introduced to the education process from the anganwadi-level instead of Class 1. This will be a part of the state's plan to implement the National Education Policy (NEP)," he said.

At the anganwadi-level, besides language, he said that students should also be made aware of other subjects.

He emphasised on the need for children to get their foundation right at a young age and said that the government was taking corresponding measures.

Six-year-old's sexual assault: No clues yet

Kozhikode: The investigation team probing the brutal rape of a six-year-old Nepali girl at Unnikulam in Balussery has not made a breakthrough even after two days. Though the police took some suspects into custody and interrogated them on Friday, no arrest was made in the case. After a preliminary probe, the police suspect migrant workers living in nearby areas could be involved in the crime. The probe team is also clueless as to the number of persons involved. Police said the girl was violated at her house on Wednesday night. ENS

Warrant issued against CCD founder's wife

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chikkamagaluru

THE Mudigere JMFC Court issued a non-bailable arrest warrant to eight people – including Malavika Hegde, wife of Cafe Coffee Day founder, the late V G Siddhartha Hegde and ABC company CEO – on charges of bounced cheques that were given to coffee planters on behalf of Coffee Day Global Limited.

Warrants were issued to arrest Coffee Day Global Limited managing director and the company's director Malavika Hegde, CEO Jayaraj C Hubballi, secretary Sadananda Poojary, company chief Nitin Bagmane, Kireeti Savanth and Javed Parvez .

For the past many years, planters of Hassan and Chikkamagaluru have been selling coffee to Coffee Day Global Limited, but after Siddarth's demise, the company was in a financial crisis. It was then that coffee growers appealed to the company to clear their dues.

Meanwhile , the administrative board assured them that the dues will be settled in a phased manner, but they haven't received the money even after one-and-a-half years.

K Nandish, an employee at Shivaprakash Estate of Mallandur, filed a plaint alleging that his produce had been sold by ABC Company and that he received only Rs 4 lakh out of Rs 45 lakh not to mention the cheque issued by the company had bounced. He named Malavika Hegde and eight others in the company and held them responsible. Malavika is yet to be arrested, sources said.

Chikkaballapur lake in peril due to civil works

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

A SPRAWLING lake and the wetland surrounding it, located north of Bengaluru, which is a haven for migratory birds and a water source for the region, is facing twin treats: Secondary treated water pumped into it and the 'rejuvenation' plan of the government.

The Gopalakrishna Ammani Lake in Sonnapura near Chikkaballapur is being filled up with secondary treated water from Hebbal and Nagawara valley in Bengaluru, with the aim to improve the groundwater table in the district.

The water body, along the national highway to Hyderabad en route to Nandi Hills, was a popular destination for birders. Ornithologists said that till last month, they could easily count 125 species of birds, including migratory ones, but now with the civil works going on there, the lake and the wetland are at risk. The treated water is being pumped into the lake by the Minor Irrigation Department (MID). More than five years ago, the Horticulture Department built a mini-glass house there.

Gopalakrishna Ammani Lake

"The lake has become a matter of worry as the works will hamper the biodiversity of the region. Besides, this has also exposed the tussle between the minor irrigation and horticulture department," said a Forest Department official. The official pointed out that they were not consulted before this exercise started.

A senior MID engineer said that the water body is spread across 600 acres, of which, 70 acres are under the Horticulture Department. "We are not damaging the biodiversity. The treated water from Bengaluru, as per state government orders, is being sent to Chikkaballapur to recharge the groundwater," he said.

However, a Forest official pointed out that due to the ongoing works, the natural water body will turn into a tank, like those in Bengaluru that are mere water storage tanks.

AVERTING THE DANGERS OF A GLOBAL DEBT CRISIS

With countries getting deeper into debt, the day of reckoning doesn't seem far away amid the looming global debt crisis. Global debt broke past records to touch an unsustainable 320% of GDP and how we got here isn't hard to fathom. The world went into the pandemic with record high debt that more than tripled since the 2008 financial crisis. Out of nowhere, we've found ourselves in the worst economic recession in 90 years and with the global economy projected to contract 4.4% in 2020, there's fat chance that countries can grow their way out of debt. A full-fledged debt crisis would devastate the global economy and dwarf the fallouts of the 2008 financial crisis. Thus, the IMF last month urged countries to act now and avert the dangers of a debt crisis.

In the past 60 years, the world has seen four debt waves, of which the first three ended with crises leaving several countries in financial ruin. Surprisingly, nations avoided a systemic debt crisis in 2010 thanks to ultra-cheap interest rates and a massive monetary push, but this didn't solve the problem altogether. By 2018, another debt wave began building and global debt reached an all-time high of 230% of GDP. When the pandemic struck, public debt rose further due to higher spending and lower revenue. Global central banks' easy monetary policies once again bought time. But it could be a matter of time before the crisis unfolds.

India isn't spending into trouble and is also resorting to expenditure cuts. Yet, public debt is likely to touch a staggering 90% of GDP next fiscal. We've avoided corporate and retail debt defaults thanks to government bailouts, but much depends on job creation and incomes from hereon. Those with unsustainable debt will still need support and the often used low-interest-rate tool may not come to the rescue. As the IMF noted, policymakers must avoid outright defaults by restructuring debt. For, the longer the problem is postponed, the worse it gets, just like how sorrows won't become joys by postponement.

LET PROBE AGENCIES DO THEIR JOB IN KERALA

Gold and drugs are themes around which most mafia movies are made. They will also be two of the themes around which the next two rounds of elections in Kerala will be fought—the local body polls next month and the Assembly elections this coming summer. While the arrest of Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan's once-trusted officer in the gold smuggling case along with the emergence of links indicating the possible involvement of other senior officers and ministers have dealt a blow to the ruling Left Democratic Front's image, the arrest of Bineesh Kodiyeri, son of CPM's Kerala chief Kodiyeri Balakrishnan, in a drug cartel case could be the proverbial final nail in the coffin. Though the chief minister has publicly claimed immunity from the deeds of his officers and the party from the misadventures of the sons, the fact is neither can escape from the fallout of the recent embarrassing developments. The CM's outburst that central investigative agencies are acting with the clear intention of maligning his government and the Cabinet decision to withdraw the general consent given to the CBI to take up cases for probe in the state point to the underlying apprehensions about these investigations.

Yet, the Pinarayi government's best option is to let the law take its course and probe agencies do their job. Attempts to scuttle investigation and make it difficult for them to operate in the state could prove counterproductive. The CPM-led government has already caused enough damage to its credibility through attempts to prevent the CBI from probing the Periya double murder of Youth Congress workers and the Life Mission housing scam. The blatant bid to intimidate the ED team from Bengaluru that raided Bineesh's house was another misadventure. Frankly, this government does not need more bad publicity. The government is within its rights to defend its policies and decisions, and point out when the investigative agencies exceed their brief, but it can certainly avoid creating an impression that it has something to hide. For, people are watching. A speedy investigation by these agencies is in the government's interest if its hands are indeed clean.

India's major contribution to the climate crisis is factory farming. It is also the main cause of animal suffering and abuse

FACTORY FARMING OF ANIMALS AND CLIMATE CHANGE

NANDITHA KRISHNA

Historian, environmentalist and writer based in Chennai

AMIT BANDRE

As temperatures rise, ice floes shrink, natural disasters increase in frequency and new diseases attack nations, we are seeing the effects of climate change—a climate crisis, which is the state of our world. Increasing levels of greenhouse gases (GHGs) like carbon dioxide (CO_2), methane, nitrous oxide (N_2O) and chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs) are warming the planet. Climate change was an important issue in the recent American presidential polls, but it has yet to become a topic of discussion in India. The burning of fossil fuels, destruction of rainforests and animal farming add enormous amounts of GHGs to the atmosphere, increasing global warming.

India's major contribution to the climate crisis is animal farming, which nobody talks about because it requires a change of diet or due to commercial interests. This is a very remunerative source of income with no questions about health and hygiene standards. India has the world's largest population of livestock and annually produces around 5.3 million tonnes (MT) of meat, 75 billion eggs—being the world's third largest producer of eggs, the fourth largest of chicken, the second largest of goat meat and the world's largest exporter of beef, notwithstanding our protestations of Gau Mata. These are the proud statistics of the Ministry of Food Processing Industries, Government of India. The total number of cattle in India was 192.49 million in 2019, which includes 145.12 million cows, an increase of 18% from 2012.

Animal farming—or factory farming—is a system of rearing livestock using highly intensive methods, by which poultry, pigs, or cattle are confined in small closed spaces under strictly controlled conditions to produce large amounts of meat, eggs or milk. It is a large-scale industrial operation that raises thousands of animals with hormones and antibiotics to prevent disease and maximise their growth and food output. While egg-laying chicken are housed in "battery cages" the size of an A4 sheet of paper, "broiler" chicken are placed in boxes until they reach the required slaughter weight. Food animals live in their own urine and faeces till they go for slaughter. Factory farming is the main cause of animal suffering and abuse. Animals are converted into machines that generate meat, milk, and eggs. Newborn female calves are taken away from their mothers and fed with milk from cows with cancer, since it is not legal to sell this milk. Male calves are sold at birth to become veal. Cows are artificially inseminated repeatedly so that their milk production does not stop and are injected with oxytocin to maximise output. When they stop producing milk, they are sold for beef and transported in terrible conditions to Kerala or Bengal for slaughter. Debeaked chickens stand on wire all their lives, while male chicks are ground live into pellets and fed to their mothers. We forget that animals are sentient beings who feel pain and sorrow.

Livestock farming has terrible environmental impact, contributing to air pollution, land and water degradation, biodiversity loss and deforestation. The primary gas emissions are CO_2, methane and N_2O that contribute the most to GHG emissions. 40% of methane emissions, which trap more heat than CO_2, are produced by farm animals. N_2O, found in manure and fertilisers, is 300 times more powerful than CO_2 in warming the planet. Animal farms release compounds such as hydrogen sulphide, ammonia and methane. According to an FAO report, 60% of human pathogens and 75% of emerging diseases are zoonotic; livestock contribute 18% to anthropogenic GHG emissions, while water use for livestock exceeds 8% of global human water use and causes 55% of soil erosion. Poor sanitation and waste management leads to the contamination of food supply by bacteria such as E coli and salmonella. Hormones and antibiotics fed to the animals enter human food chains.

> Factory farming is a large-scale industrial operation that raises thousands of animals in small closed spaces with hormones and antibiotics to maximise their growth and food output

Land is cleared to raise billions of animals for the meat and dairy industry. Around 30% of the earth's land is used for livestock farming. Since food, water and land are scarce in most parts of the world, this is an inefficient use of resources. Instead, if all grain were fed to humans instead of animals, we could feed an extra 3.5 billion people. Every 2 seconds, one acre of rainforest—43,200 acres a day—is cut down for cattle farming; 3.5 to 7 billion trees are cut, resulting in a loss of biodiversity; 70,000 sq km of forest is lost annually. Dumping untreated animal wastes in soil degrades topsoil; it takes 500 years to produce one inch of new topsoil. 50% of the world's wildlife habitats have been converted to farming land and 33% of land worldwide is used for livestock food production. 60% of grains are cultivated to feed farm animals. It takes 5 kg of grain to produce 1 kg of chicken, 9 kg to produce 1 kg of pork and 25 kg to produce 1 kg of beef. It takes 5,000 litres of water to produce 1 kg of meat. The rainforests of South America are cleared to grow soybean, 75% of which is fed to livestock. Meanwhile, 25 lakh Indians die of hunger every year—one-third of the world's hungry people. Industrial livestock farming, by converting food into feed, is not only inefficient but also not equitable.

Global warming affects crops, weather patterns, increases plant diseases and insect infestations. Increased rains lead to floods while the reverse lead to droughts. It wreaks havoc on ecosystems and biodiversity. Islands, coastal habitations and wildlife are at risk of disappearing. And I have not even touched upon the oceans and coral reefs. If we feed our hungry children instead of farming animals, we would have less hunger. The food choices we make today will impact the future of this planet.

STOLE TEMPLE PROPERTY? YOU SHALL NOT BE SPARED

MADHUSUDHANAN KALAICHELVAN

Architect

Temples have been the nucleus of religious, spiritual, social and cultural developments in India throughout history. As they grew in size and number, with each settlement having several shrines dedicated to various Gods and Goddesses, the need to manage, maintain and conduct the temples was felt. That is when patronising existing temples and commissioning new ones with established endowments began.

The inscriptions on temple walls speak volumes about such endowments, donations and gifts in gold and kind, humbly submitted by devotees who could afford them. Sometimes these endowments were also created by depositing gold collected as penalty from convicts. The temples had representative bodies, from which chosen members administered the financial activities. The gold and funds were sometimes lent, sometimes deposited in revenue-generating schemes or at times paid as advance for welfare schemes that shall pay back soon.

Such enormous deposits have sometimes lured the unscrupulous, who laid their hands on them. There are a few very interesting incidents that can be studied to understand the way theft and robbery in temples were dealt with. I reserve that for a future column. However, the ancient Tamils used the concept of dharma to instil the qualities of righteousness and being just, and prevent people from misappropriating temple wealth. The dharma sastras warn individuals to be very careful when handling public money, especially those of the temples. To keep people cognisant of what they reap when they swindle temple funds—what is equal to thieving in a temple or the extent of humiliation that occurs to one who misappropriates temple wealth—verses describing the sins and benefits of these deeds are usually narrated in the concluding part of the inscriptions.

Although such imprecatory verses start appearing from the middle of 8th century CE, they seem to have gained popularity and variety after the 15th century. Of the collection of such verses, the ones etched in the inscriptions of the Sri Arunachaleshwara temple, Tiruvannamalai, are pretty interesting as they reflect the societal norms, belief systems, cultural connotations and faith as it existed then.

One of the earliest inscriptions that talks about such ignominious acts is from the times of the Chola ruler Rajadhiraja II (1170 CE). It says the act of misusing or confiscating temple land may be considered as low as sharing one's wife with the enemy, eating his leftovers and gulping the water that he washed his feet with. If an offender is caught, one can imagine his reputation in society that would now consider him equal to those guilty of such shameful acts, and the humiliation that comes along with it would be enough to send a shiver down one's spine.

> The ancient Tamils used the concept of dharma to instil righteousness and prevent people from misappropriating temple wealth. ... From the 15th century, those who embezzled temple accounts were considered as having earned the sins of murdering one's own parents and guru

The most commonly seen verses of imprecation equate the sin of misappropriating temple resources to that of killing a cow on the banks of Ganga or Kumari (Kanyakumari teertha), or accumulating the collective sins of the population that resides between Ganga and Kumari. A 1199 CE inscription hurls curses on an offender that the sin of a beef-eater be upon him. The torment of sin and the fear of shame that come along were sufficient to ward off such thoughts in temple administrators that they dare not dream of grabbing even a single penny.

The idea of being in servitude to one's enemy, by defeat in war or selling oneself seems to have been a strong social deterrent. An inscription from 1205 CE says that if an individual diverts the interest from the temple endowment for his personal gains, he shall be considered to have eaten from the spittoon of his enemy and chewed the paan he spat. Addressing the individual as a slave to his opponent, carrying his sandals and assisting him with his pitcher are also listed in a few inscriptions.

A 13th century CE inscription warns an offender with dire consequences similar to that which occurs when one ill-treats a pregnant woman and/or denies her water to quench her thirst. Moreover, even if a basket of paddy is stolen from the temple silos, the culprit is equivalent to a Shiva drohi and a guru drohi, clearly positioning one's guru on a pedestal higher than Shiva.

Starting from around the 15th century, miscreants who embezzled temple accounts were considered as having earned the sins of murdering one's own parents and guru.

Hold on. Are there no references at all about the merits that you earn by being righteous and honest? Yes, there is indeed a beautifully composed Sanskrit inscription from the times of the Vijayanagara king Mallikarjuna (15th century CE). It says: "Between one gifting and him protecting another's gift, protection of another's gift is superior. While the former reached heaven, the latter reached the world of Vishnu." Clearly, protecting an existing endowment is considered morally and ethically superior to even creating one.

Nitish's last polls?

The declaration of Bihar CM Nitish Kumar that this would be his last polls should be appreciated. Usually, no politician wants to retire voluntarily, the former Kerala CM Achutha Menon being an exception. One hopes sincere politicians will step down voluntarily in the best interests of the country to give way to the younger generation.

M Haneef, Kottayam

Playing the emotional card

Nitish seems to have come to the conclusion that it is an uphill task to win the Bihar Assembly elections this time. So he has played the emotional card of this being his last polls. He seems doubtful of the 'Justice for Sushant' campaign and the perceived Modi magic to garner votes in his favour.

Diplomacy is working

This is with reference to Welcome bilateral efforts to reset ties with Nepal (Nov 6). Even when Nepal's hostility was at its peak, India acted with tremendous restraint, keeping its cool like an elder brother would. From the Nepali response, it is evident that our diplomatic outreach has paid dividends.

Hemanth Bhide, Mangaluru

Dealing with neighbours

By inviting Indian Army Chief General M M Naravane to Nepal, Prime Minister K P Sharma Oli has started a new era of peace and harmony. Nepal has been maintaining warm relations with India for a long time before the map issue. We must act wisely now and frame strategic measures to deal with our immediate neighbours, especially the aggressive ones.

Cracker ban welcome

This is with reference to A cleaner yet bright Deepavali amid Covid (Nov 6). The editorial is an eye-opener about the further aggravation of breathing problems due to air pollution during Deepavali celebrations. It is great that many states have banned firecrackers. The public must understand the realities of the pandemic and act accordingly this festive season.

R Pichumani, Kumbakonam

Curbing air pollution too

The firecracker ban in a few states is a welcome decision taking the deadly virus into account. This will also help in curbing air pollution. Cracker traders who may incur heavy losses can switch to selling earthen lamps and diyas, which would be in higher demand this time.

Rohit Sharma's injury

This is with reference to BCCI, IPL and the Rohit Sharma injury quandary (Nov 6). As a senior cricket player, Rohit Sharma would have taken care to not aggravate his injury further. By playing in the last couple of matches in the IPL, he might have proved a point or two about his fitness to the selectors. But representing the country is more important than playing in the IPL, is it not?

Good move by TN govt

The Tamil Nadu government has shown spine in refusing permission to the BJP to hold a 'Vel Yatra', taking into account the pandemic. With the BJP state president L Murugan going ahead with the yatra despite this, law-and-order problems may arise.

Shailaja vouches for Kerala model despite grave Covid situation

KERALA would be able to flatten the Covid-19 curve if the daily tally of new cases keeps coming down, said Kerala Health Minister K K Shailaja. Leader of Opposition Ramesh Chennithala, however, said the government turned Covid control into a publicity exercise, and this in turn led to slackening of vigil against the pandemic. They were speaking to Prabhu Chawla, Editorial Director, The New Indian Express, and senior journalist Kaveree Bamzai, during TNIE Expressions, a series of live webcasts with prominent people.

The death rate was at a peak of 0.7% in May when the lockdown was lifted. It has come down to 0.34% in November due to the planning and execution of the Kerala model

KK Shailaja

Shailaja vouched for the success of the Kerala model in dealing with the pandemic despite the state moving from being one of the best in the world to one that contributes 15 per cent of the daily cases in the country. According to her, Kerala, despite being vulnerable to the pandemic in terms of its demographic and epidemiological factors, has done well in controlling Covid-19 deaths. "The death rate was at a peak of 0.7% in May when the lockdown was lifted. It has come down to 0.34% in November due to the planning and execution of the Kerala model," said Shailaja.

The minister, who received wide international media coverage during the initial days of the pandemic, said the world was watching the performance of the state. "Our aim was to keep cases under the threshold of our health system. That is a more scientific thing," she said. Asked about the increase in transmission rate after the initial success, Shailaja said the influx of expatriates after the lockdown was lifted and the lack of vigil among them led to an increase in local transmission.

Pandemic should not have been turned into a PR exercise. We projected that we are number one. That gave a message to the people that the pandemic was over

Ramesh Chennithala

Chennithala, however, alleged that the tall claims made by the government led to slackening of vigil and resulted in a second wave. "Pandemic should not have been turned into a PR exercise. We projected that we are number one. That gave a message to the people that the pandemic was over and there was slackness everywhere."

According to him the state should have had a better success as it has the best health facilities, on a par with the European nations. He blamed the government for not conducting enough tests which would have helped save lives. "There were not enough facilities for the Gulf returnees as promised by the government. The lack of preparedness was evident in first-line treatment centres and we are now facing a third wave," he said.

The minister, in turn, blamed the opposition parties for holding protests against the government in violation of the Covid-19 protocol and contributing to the spread of cases. "The protest gatherings affected the state very badly. As many as 500 policemen were infected and so were some of the protestors and their families," she said.

Chennithala justified the protests saying the people were agitated against the government over the sensational gold smuggling issue. "At some point, we stopped the protests and adhered to the protocol. But eight ministers contracted Covid. Was it because we staged agitations?" he asked.

India summons Pak mission official, protests gurdwara move

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA on Thursday summoned Pakistan's Charge d' Affaires Aftab Hassan Khan and lodged a strong protest against Islamabad's decision to change the management of the Kartarpur Sahib gurdwara to a non-Sikh body. The decision runs against the spirit of the Kartarpur Sahib Corridor and the religious sentiments of the Sikh community, India said.

"The unilateral decision of transferring the management of the Kartarpur Sahib is highly condemnable. The Charge d' Affaires of the Pakistan mission was summoned and a protest was conveyed. We conveyed that Pakistan needs to reverse its unilateral and arbitrary decision," Ministry of External Affairs Spokesperson Anurag Srivastava said.

Pakistan, in an order issued on November 3, had transferred the management of the gurdwara, the last resting place of Sikh religion founder Guru Nanak Dev, to Evacuee Trust Property Board, a body which has no representation from the Sikh community.

India had hit out at Islamabad saying many representations were received from the Sikh community expressing grave concern over the decision to transfer the management and maintenance of the gurdwara.

"Such actions only expose the reality of the Pakistani government and its leadership's tall claims of preserving and protecting the rights and welfare of the religious minority communities," the MEA statement had stated.

BOMBAY HIGH COURT TO HEAR ARNAB'S BAIL APPLICATION TODAY

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

REPUBLIC TV owner and editor-in-chief Arnab Goswami on Friday again failed to get interim relief from Bombay High Court in a case of abetment of suicide. The bench will hold a special session on Saturday to hear the Maharashtra Police and the complainant, Adnya Naik, after which it may pronounce its order on Goswami's bail plea.

A division bench of Justices S S Shinde and M S Karnik heard the arguments by Goswami's lawyers Harish Salve and Aabad Ponda, but said they would continue the hearing on Saturday because of paucity of time. "We will assemble for this matter tomorrow at noon. Since regular court work will not be there tomorrow, we can hear this matter at length," the bench said. The HC normally does not assemble on Saturday.

Goswami was arrested by Raigad police on November 4 for abetment of suicide of architect Anvay Naik and his mother. In his suicide note Naik accused him of non-payment of his dues to the tune of ₹83 lakh. He was on Wednesday remanded in judicial custody till November 18 by a magistrate's court.

The HC, during the hearing on Friday, noted that the normal practice when seeking bail was to first approach the lower court and move the high court if the bail is denied.

To this, Salve said section 439 of the Code of Criminal Procedure gave the high court special powers to hear a bail plea. "His (Goswami's) liberty is at stake," he said.

Salve also argued that the Maharashtra government was trying to harass him for questioning it on his channel. "This is a clear case of abuse of power. There are multiple FIRs lodged against him. In this abetment of suicide case of 2018, the police have arrested him knowing fully well that courts will soon break for Diwali vacation. The Maharashtra government just wants to teach him a lesson," he said.

The HC on Saturday will also hear the petitions filed by the two other accused, Feroze Shaikh and Nitish Sarda, seeking similar relief. It will also hear Naik's daughter Adnya's plea seeking reinvestigation or transfer of the case.

HANSA CLAIMS POLICE PRESSURE

Mumbai: Hansa Research Group Pvt Ltd, the complainant in the TRP scam being probed by Mumbai Police, has demanded that the case be handed over to the CBI. In a petition filed in Bombay High Court, the company said Mumbai crime branch has been pressuring its officials to name Republic TV in the scam. "We had filed the police complaint to unearth the TRP scam... Now, we're being forced to give statement against Republic," said the petitioners – Hansa Research, its director NK Swamy, CEO Praveen Nijhara and Deputy GM Nitin Deokar.

SC issues contempt notice to Maha Assembly Secy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday issued show cause notice to the secretary of Maharashtra Assembly asking him to explain in two weeks as to why contempt proceedings should not be initiated against him for his letter to Arnab Goswami cautioning him against disclosing House notice to the Supreme Court.

Granting protection from arrest to Goswami in the breach of privilege motion case, a bench headed by CJI S A Bobde took strong note of the October 13 letter.

"This is a serious matter and amounts to contempt. The above statements are unprecedented and have a tendency to bring the administration of justice into disrepute and in any case may amount to direct interference in the administration of justice," the bench observed.

Intention of the author of the letter seems to be to intimidate the petitioner because he approached this court and to threaten him with penalty for doing so

SC bench

The SC said the assembly secretary would have been well-advised to understand that "the right to approach this court under Article 32 of the Constitution of India is itself a fundamental right". If a citizen is deterred in any way from approaching this court in the exercise of this right, it would amount to serious interference in the administration of justice, it added.

'Covid-related stroke is far deadlier'

Study on stroke in Covid-19 patients in India shows 26% didn't have conventional risk factors

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

THE first study of stroke among Covid-19 patients in India compared with stroke patients prior to the pandemic has shown unexpected high mortality and has suggested that many suffered strokes without conventional risk factors.

Over a three-month period, a group of neurologists observed disease features and outcomes in 62 stroke patients from 13 hospitals across Bangalore, and compared them with 111 stroke patients they had treated during the same three months last year.

Their findings showed an unusually high proportion of patients — one in four, or 16 of the 62 (26%) — did not have conventional risk factors for stroke such as hypertension, cardiovascular disease or diabetes.

Also, a high proportion of patients — 37 of the 62 (59%) — had residual neurological disability scores — neurological issues even after recovery— of 3-5 at discharge.

The score 3 means moderate disability where patient needs some help but can walk without assistance, 4 suggests moderate disability, with patient being unable to walk and attend to needs without assistance and 5 indicates severe disability where the patient is bed-ridden, incontinent and needs constant nursing care and attention.

The observational study showed that 13 of the 62 patients (16%) with Covid-19 and stroke died, which the neurologists say is high and not observed during routine non-Covid strokes.

Of the patients observed, 60 (97%) had ischemic strokes (caused by a blockage in an artery that supplies blood to the brain) while 2 (3%) had hemorrhagic strokes (when blood from an artery begins bleeding into the brain). The mean age of patients was 55 years, with 34 (77.4%) males.

Covid related strokes are increasing being recognised in developing countries like India... strokes were more severe in nature and resulted in higher mortality and morbidity

Researchers

For the multicentre retrospective study of all patients from 13 hospitals from south India between June and August this year, demographic, clinical, laboratory and neuroimaging data were collected along with treatment administered and outcomes. SARS-CoV-2 infection was confirmed in all cases by RT- PCR testing.

Twenty-six per cent (16/62) of patients did not have any conventional risk factors for stroke. Diabetes Mellitus was seen in 54.8%, hypertension was present in 61.3%, coronary artery disease in 8% and atrial fibrillation in 4.8%.

Govt yet to take call on Chinese entry in 5G trial

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE government has not yet taken a decision on allowing Chinese telecom companies to enter into the 5G trials in India, Union Home Secretary Ajay Kumar Bhalla said on Friday. He, however, acknowledged that the penetration of the neighbouring country into the existing network is extensive.

The home secretary stressed that the government was making special safeguards to ensure safety and security of the country's communication network.

"On 5G, the government in any case has not taken any call. Discussions are still on...when it will be allowed and who are the people to be allowed.... The penetration of existing telecom hardware and software is too extensive," he said at the Diamond Jubilee webinar organised by National Defence College.

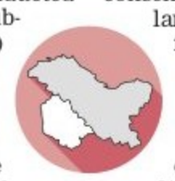
Bhalla was responding to a question on participation of Chinese telecom players in India's 5G trials. He said unless India gets a substitute, the existing facilities cannot be closed down abruptly.

Officer shortage in J&K prompts govt SOS to ministries

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) has asked all cadre-controlling authorities to prepare a list of IAS, IPS and other all-India service officers who can be immediately sent on deputation to Jammu and Kashmir and Ladakh citing "acute shortage" of officials in the two newly created Union territories.

The MHA, in an office memorandum dated October 26, sent to all cadre-controlling authorities 'requested' that "the willingness of Central Civil Services Officers, selected through Central Civil Exams conducted by the UPSC (Union Public Service Commission) may please be obtained" for a stint in the two UTs.



The MHA asked the authorities to "provide the name(s) of suitable officer(s), eligible for deputation in terms of existing guidelines and willing to serve in the Governments of UT of J&K/ UT of Ladakh, along with the cadre-controlling authority's consent/no objection and vigilance clearance of the officers at the earliest".

The letter has been sent to the Railway Board chairman, Controller General of Accounts, Comptroller Auditor General of India, secretaries of the ministries of defence, external affairs, corporate affairs and I&B, chairpersons of the Central Board of Direct Taxes and the Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs, and the departments of commerce, telecommunications and posts.

J&K has a stipulated cadre strength of 137 IAS officers. But, only 58 are serving in the cadre of which nine officers are on deputation to the central government, sources said.

Similarly, while the cadre strength for IPS officers is 147, only 66 are currently serving.

India, Italy sign 15 pacts as PMs meet virtually

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Friday held a virtual bilateral summit with his Italian counterpart Giuseppe Conte where a total of 15 agreements across various sectors were signed between the two countries.

The two leaders also discussed possible measures to deal with coronavirus. "It is clear that the COVID-19 epidemic will remain a watershed in history just like the Second World War. We all have to adapt ourselves to this new world. There is a need to be ready for the challenges and opportunities arising out of the pandemic," Modi said.

Joint Secretary (Europe West) Sandeep Chakravorty said the focus of the engagement was on economic ties. "Italy is keen to diversify investment and supply chain," he said. Relations with the European Union and the Free Trade Agreement with the EU were also discussed.

A joint statement released later said the two PMs underlined the need to intensify cooperation in sectors like high technology, clean energy and infrastructure.

IIT-Kharagpur to set up Centre of Excellence for Indian knowledge system, says education minister

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE Indian Institute of Technology, Kharagpur, will set up a Centre of Excellence for the Indian knowledge system, the Union Education Minister Ramesh Pokhriyal Nishank announced on Friday while inaugurating the international webinar called 'Bharata Tirtha' organised by the institute.

"IIT-Kharagpur has attempted to introspect on the spirit of India, her challenges in the present times, and taken the right measures through an initiative like Bharata Tirtha and research," the minister said in a virtual address.

"The first challenge in front of us is that we need to make our coming generation aware of the glorious past of the Vishwaguru and its spirit," said the minister.

During his address, Pokhriyal also emphasised education through the mother tongue, as envisaged in the national education policy, and revival of Sanskrit to ease the educational process for the diverse people of India and draw from the rich educational heritage of India.

Virendra Tewari, director, IIT-Kharagpur, expressed the need to acknowledge and incentivise research work on Indian Scientific Heritage by awarding the prestigious Shanti Swarup Bhatnagar Prize.

'People of Bihar want Nitish more than others'

JD-U asserts Nitish will continue to work as long as the people want, says his statement was wrongly interpreted

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ Patna

A day after CM Nitish Kumar created a flutter by saying this would be his last Assembly election, JD-U and BJP leaders on Friday downplayed his statement, saying it was "wrongly interpreted".

In an official statement, the JD-U said the party chief would continue to work as long as the people of Bihar want, and that his statement did not mean he was retiring. "The remark was intended for the last phase of polling," it said.

On the last day of campaigning on Thursday, Nitish while speaking at a rally in Purnia had said that it was his last election.

RJD's Tejashwi Yadav and LJP's Chirag Paswan linked the statement to the CM's indirect acceptance of defeat in the polls.

The JD-U later clarified that the CM wanted to say that it was the last day of campaigning for him in the election. "He will continue to work — he has said it is his job to serve the people." JD-U state chief Bashishtha Narayan Singh told the media that no one retires from politics. "How can Nitish retire when the people of Bihar want him more than others? He will continue to head the NDA as CM with a majority."

Several others from JD-U such as Kurshid Alam and NK Yadav of BJP shared Singh's views. However, Nitish maintained studied silence. "It speaks a lot for itself," said Ajit Kumar, a social activist.

On the other hand, Congress general secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala said Nitish has announced his "retirement" as he can see election defeat right in front of him. Surjewala said it would have been better for Bihar had Nitish and his deputy Sushil Modi announced retirement after an apology.

In a counter, junior Union home minister Nityanand Rai accused the Congress and RJD of misleading the people. "The people know the reality and have trust in NDA led by Nitish Kumar. Where there is Modi, there is faith and development. Wherever Nitish is, there is employment," Rai said.

Bihar goes for the third and final phase of polling on Saturday with contests in 78 seats, mostly in the Muslim-dominated Seemanchal area. If the ruling NDA loses in these areas, the prospects of it forming a government will become difficult.

Tejashwi confident of victory

Confident of winning thr polls, RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav on Friday assured the people of Bihar that his government will adopt zero tolerance on crimes and law and order problems. Tejashwi Yadav reiterated his commitment to make a progressive Bihar. "We will never compromise on crimes," he said. "Whatever agendas we have put forth including 10 lakh jobs would be fulfilled once voted to power."

Madhepura roots for Lalu as caste lines run deeper than development

MUKESH RANJAN @ Madhepura

IT'S a land of dons, power and hunger. As a Lok Sabha constituency, it has sent prominent leaders such as Sharad Yadav and Pappu Yadav to Parliament. It has yet another claim to fame: it's the native place of former Bihar CM Bindeshwari Prasad Mandal who chaired the Mandal Commission on caste reservations.

In the Assembly segments of Madhepura, Alamnagar, Singheshwar (SC) and Bihariganj, forget development as a poll theme. The entire constituency continues to repose trust in Lalu Prasad, the incarcerated RJD chief.

The caste lines are very sharp in these areas. "Why would people look at development works when they vote on the basis of caste, anyway," says a local contractor Bhawanand Yadav. "Moreover, nothing has changed in the last 15 years of Nitish rule. If the RJD rule was a 'jungle raj' it is now the 'loot raj'."

Here roads have long potholed stretches, where it takes at least 4-5 hours to cover 100km. Yet in terms of politics, the constituency going to the polls today is so important that both JD-U's Nitish Kumar and RJD's Tejsaswi Yadav have been camping in Madhepura.

The area has Yadavs, Dalits and Mahadalit as predominant castes, and the ruling JD-U is making all-out efforts to make a dent in the RJD stronghold. "Call it his charisma or his rustic oratorical skills, the people here easily identify themselves with Lalu ji. He has a huge fanfollowing," says a school teacher.

Many say that it being a Yadav-dominated area, it's the caste factor that has led RJD to win seats in Madhepura.

Birendra Yadav, a local contractor, says no development work was carried out either during the RJD or JD-U rule.

But youths differ and say they will vote for development. "We are getting regular electricity and water, and we hope that unemployment will also be tackled if Nitish*ji* returns to power," said first-time voter Avinash Kumar.

The JD-U has stepped up efforts to mobilise people, especially after Pappu Yadav's entry. Pappu is fighting a battle of prestige. After floating the Jan Adhikar Party-Loktantrik, the three-time ex-MP is contesting as the CM candidate of the Progressive Democratic Alliance.

Mamata's Bengal only state to have three laws: Shah

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

BENGAL is the only state where three types of law exist unlike other parts of the country, Union Home Minister Amit Shah said in a frontal attack on Trinamool Congress supremo Mamata Banerjee on Friday.

"One (law) is for her (Mamata's) nephew Abhishek Banerjee, another is for her vote-bank and the third is for the common people of Bengal. The state administration is politicised and politics in Bengal has been criminalised. More than 100 BJP workers have been killed ever since the 2019 Lok Sabha elections but no arrests were made," Shah said on the last day of his two-day Bengal visit.

I saw public outrage against the Mamata government and people's increasing faith in PM Modi. They know that only the social welfare projects of the Modi government can change their lives

Amit Shah, Union Home Minister

The home minister accused Mamata of not sharing crime data with the Centre to hide the state's deteriorating law and order situation. "Since the 2019 Lok Sabha election, Bengal is the only state which is not sharing crime data with the NCRB," said Shah. "What is the reason behind it? Will it reflect the real picture of the law and order situation? I have the data of 2018 where Bengal is in the top of the list of crimes like molestation, acid attack and abduction of women. Conviction rate in cases of crime against women is only 5.3 per cent in Bengal."

Shah also hit out at Mamata for her "failure" to meet people's expectation. "People rejected the Left Front's 34-year regime and gave Mamata a chance to run the state. If I look back at the governance in Bengal in past 10 years, people's frustration and anger are clearly visible."

Like PM Narendra Modi, Shah promised to make a 'Sonar Bangla' if the party is voted to power.

After visiting Dakshineshwar temple, Shah castigated the CM for adopting appeasement politics. "Mamata Banerjee's strategy of appeasement politics has ruined Bengal's tradition. We urge the people to come forward and overthrow the TMC-led government to restore Bengal's glory.'

Earlier in the day, Shah had lunch at the house of a Matua family on the Kolkata's outskirts, and visited a temple of the sect. To woo Bengal's intelligentsia, Shah visited the musical school of Pandit Ajoy Chakrabarty.

He said, "Constant friction with two of our nuclear neighbours with whom India has fought wars increasingly acting in collusion poses an omnipresent danger of regional strategic instability with the potential for escalation threatening our territorial integrity and strategic cohesion."

Indian Air Force Chief Air Chief Marshal R K S Bhadauria, who also spoke at the webinar, said IAF's proactive actions and strong posture played a major role in dissuading China from making any further attempts to alter status quo in the Ladakh theatre.

Lashkar's Pak duo killed, 1 surrenders

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

TWO Pakistani militants of Lashkar-e-Toiba and a civilian were killed in a two-day long encounter in Pampore area of south Kashmir's Pulwama district.

A local militant, who had joined militancy two months back, surrendered during the encounter on Friday.

At Lalpora Chatlam area in Pulwama district, militants fired at troops, causing injuries to two civilians on Thursday. The injured civilians were evacuated to hospital, where one of them Abid Ahmad Mir succumbed to injuries.

After the initial firefight, militants escaped from the area. "However, the troops again cornered them and asked them to surrender. They turned down the offer and fired on the troops, which lead to an other gunfight," the police said.

The operation was suspended during the night and troops resumed the early hours today. "In the initial gunfight, one of the trapped militants was killed."

The trapped militants were again given an option to surrender and one of them — Khawar Sultan Mir — laid down his weapons and surrendered in an injured condition.

Mir had joined Lashkar in September this year.

"After his surrender, forces again launched the operation as we had information that three militants were trapped. Another militant was killed in the ensuing gunfight and bodies of both the militants were recovered," the police said.

Daughters get name plates in Uttarakhand

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Dehradun

THE Pauri administration in Uttarakhand has launched an initiative, 'Ghar ki pehchan, nooni ku noo' (House in the name of the daughter), in its efforts to empower women and girls,

Under the initiative, villages are encouraged to put their daughters' names on the nameplates outside their house. Till date, 100 families have already opted to put up such nameplates. Other 50 families of Mathana village have promised to do so on Saturday.

The child sex ratio of Pauri district had improved from 930 in the 2001 Census to 904 in 2011. Overall child sex ratio in Uttarakhand stood at 963 in the 2011 Census, a shade better than 962 in 2001.

"The initiative is to give due recognition to the women of the hills who are backbone of all activities. This will also bring gender sensitivity among men and, in turn, empower the girl child," Ashish Bhattgain, chief development officer of Pauri district said,

The district administration is footing the expenses of installing the nameplates.

Officials said families in Budeshu village of Khirsu block, and another 45 in Malli village have expressed their willingness to take part in the social empowerment drive.

HC asks man to keep off social media

Lucknow: The Allahabad HC granted bail to a man accused of making objectionable remarks on social media against Uttar Pradesh CM Yogi Adityanath subject to the condition that he keeps off social media for two years. Justice Siddharth passed the order on a bail application by Akhilanand, who was in jail since May 12. The petitioner's counsel argued that he was falsely implicated in the case.

Lucknow Police announces reward on suspects of anti-CAA violence

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE Lucknow Police has announced a reward of ₹5,000 on the whereabouts of over a dozen anti-CAA protesters, including the son of prominent Shia cleric Kalbe Sadiq, accused of violence and arson during the agitations last year.

Posters carrying pictures of 15 people have been put up at several places in the old Lucknow area. The accused include Kalbe Sibten Noori, son of Shia cleric Kalbe Sadiq, and Maulana Saif Abbas. Eight of the accused were declared wanted under the provisions of Gangster Act.

Notices have also been pasted outside the houses of the accused.

Incidentally, the police had faced flak after it put up similar posters in March.

Police sources said Hassan, Irshad and Alam who featured on the poster had surrendered in a court on Thursday.

It lists absconders — Maulana Saif Abbas, Kalbe Sibten Noori, Salim Chaudhary, Kashif, Haleem, Neelu, Manu, Islam, Asif, Tauqeer, Jamal and Shakeel.

Earlier, the police of Thakurganj and Chowk areas had announced a similar reward on anti-CAA violence suspects. The police have initiated steps to attach properties of the 'absconders'.

Violent protests against the Citizenship Amendment Act had erupted in Lucknow late last year in which several vehicles and public properties, including a police station in the old city area, were torched.

Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath had announced tough steps including holding the perpetrators accountable for the damage. Cases were registered at Thakurganj, Hazratganj and Hasanganj stations.

The Thakurganj police acted under the Gangster Act against 27 accused, out of which 11 were sent to jail. One had surrendered, while a court had stayed the arrest of seven others.

MLC nominations: Aghadi plays it safe

Once bitten twice shy goes the saying. The Maha Vikas Aghadi is aware of Raj Bhavan-Secretariat strained ties. For its 12 MLC nominations through the Governor's quota, the government sent its list to the advocate general to check the background of all candidates and to verify whether they all fit in the given criteria. Usually, the Governor appoints personalities from art, literature, drama, film and social work. The purpose is to ensure that the Governor is unable to reject the nominations. Else, it will be another set back to the Uddhav Thackeray-led Maha Vikas Aghadi government.

To be or not to be for BJP

The BJP is divided over the arrest of senior journalist Arnab Goswami. Leader of Opposition Devendra Fadnavis did not mention the names of Sharad Pawar and Uddhav Thackeray while condemning the arrest, but attacked Sonia and Rahul Gandhi who are a marginal player in the Maha Vikas Aghadi. The BJP fears that any support to Goswami will alienate the core Marathi voters on the line of Maharashtra versus outsiders. In the cases involving actors Sushant Singh Rajput and Kangna Ranaut, the BJP was at the forefront only to quietly backtrack. The Aghadi wants to harp on Marathi manoos agenda and espouse its support to Anvay Naik, who committed suicide due to alleged non-payment by Goswami. In such a situation, the BJP is unlikely to take up the episode strongly.

Pankaja's not so subtle tweet

After Eknath Khadse, another BJP leader Pankaja Munde finds herself 'overlooked' by the BJP leadership. The party is trying to nurture an alternative Maratha face in BJP MLC Suresh Das as against Pankaja in Marathwada. Sugarcane labourers are traditional followers of the Munde family. But this year, the BJP asked Das to lead the protest of sugarcane cutters instead of Pankaja. That move has not gone well with Pankaja, who praised NCP chief Sharad Pawar in a tweet. The tweet has not gone well with the BJP.

Khadse's North Maharashtra Mission

After joining the NCP, Eknath Khadse has started his mission in North Maharashtra. It was Khadse who had turned this region into a saffron belt. The veteran leader is known to take on his opponents directly. Old graft cases are used to target them. Those with a history of corruption are wary of him. Khadse has promised NCP boss Sharad Pawar that he will turn North Maharashtra an NCP bastion and will hold a mega rally at Sagar Ground in Jalgaon. The ground has never been fully packed in the past, but Khadse has promised to script history at the venue in January.

2 SENATE RUNOFFS MAY SHAPE BIDEN TERM

Republican-controlled US Senate is in the way of Biden passing legislation & securing appointments; 2 very close elections in Georgia may define next presidency

ATLANTA

THE outcome in several contested states will determine whether Joe Biden defeats President Donald Trump. But if the Democratic challenger wins, the ambitions of a Biden presidency could well come down to Georgia.

Georgia, long a Republican stronghold — but one with rapidly changing demographics — could be the site of two runoffs on Jan. 5 to settle which party would control the Senate.

Should Democrats win them, Biden would be dealing with a majority in the Senate, increasing his chances for passing legislation and securing major appointment confirmations. Otherwise, Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell, a Kentucky Republican, could wield the power to block Biden.

Other races in North Carolina and Alaska also hold the potential to reshape the balance of power, but Georgia offers the more likely prospect.

In Georgia, two runoff elections would mean a campaign on an almost national scale, with tens of millions of dollars spent by both sides.

Biden has been mum on the Senate balance as he awaits the results in his own election, but he offered a preview days before Tuesday's election.

"I can't tell you how important it is that we flip the United States Senate. There's no state more consequential than Georgia in that fight," Biden declared at an Atlanta rally on Oct. 27, when he campaigned alongside Democratic Senate hopefuls Jon Ossoff and Raphael Warnock.

Votes were still being counted to determine whether Ossoff

Democratic candidate for Senate Jon Ossoff and Republican candidate Senator David Perdue in the state of Georgia | AP

will meet Georgia Sen. David Perdue in a second round. Georgia law requires an outright majority to win a statewide office.

Separately, a Georgia special election to fill the unexpired term of former Sen. Johnny Isakson will require a runoff between Warnock and Sen. Kelly Loeffler, the Republican appointed to the post last year after Isakson retired.

Nationally, the Senate stands at 48-48. But Republicans lead uncalled races in Alaska and North Carolina. By Thursday, the focus turned to Georgia.

Both sides promised unlimited funds would flow to the campaigns and onto the airwaves, and they predicted an all-star cast of campaigners for a state that in recent weeks drew visits from Biden, Trump, VP Mike Pence, Democratic VP nominee Kamala Harris and Barack Obama.

Sen. Chris Van Hollen, a Maryland Democrat who led Senate Democrats' campaign efforts in the 2018 cycle, warned that McConnell, who has gleefully dubbed himself the "grim reaper" of the Democratic agenda, would threaten a Biden presidency if he returns as majority leader. AP

What happens in a Senate election runoff

Georgia is critical as it is the only state holding elections for both its Senate seats this year, meaning it will determine which party is in control. Under Georgia's system, Senate races go to a runoff if no candidate receives 50% in the first round. A runoff election is similar to holding a second election in which an abbreviated ballots with only the candidates' names is used, in order to make it easier for voters to decide. In Georgia, the runoffs are mandated to occur eight weeks after the first election. These two runoff elections would mean a campaign on an almost national scale, with tens of millions of dollars spent by both sides. And the attack ads for the runoffs have already begun.

Republicans bitterly divided over Trump's baseless election claims

WASHINGTON

A key Republican senator said on Friday he saw no evidence to support President Donald Trump's baseless claim that Democrats are trying to "steal" the election and called the president's words "very disturbing."

Sen. Pat Toomey of Pennsylvania, whose state is a key battleground in the election, said "There's simply no evidence anyone has shown me of any widespread corruption or fraud" to supported Trump's claim Thursday of fraud in balloting. Toomey is not seeking relection.

Trump, who has complained for weeks about mail-in ballots, escalated his allegations late Thursday, saying at the White House that the ballot-counting process is unfair and corrupt. Trump did not back up his claims with any details or evidence, and state and federal officials have not reported any instances of voter fraud.

Several other Republican lawmakers have also criticised Trump's comments. Rep. Adam Kinzinger tweeted Thursday that the president's claims of fraud are "getting insane." If Trump has "legit" concerns about fraud, they need to be based on evidence and taken to court, Kinzinger said, adding, "STOP Spreading debunked misinformation."

Maryland GOP Gov. Larry Hogan, a potential 2024 presidential hopeful who has often criticised Trump, said unequivocally: "There is no defense for the President's comments tonight undermining our Democratic process. America is counting the votes, and we must respect the results as we always have before."

The other side

As election tallies trickled in Trump supporters were busy going viral, accelerating the unsubstantiated claim that Democrats were "stealing" the election under the rallying cry #StopTheSteal.

Trump's social media "influencers" -- Donald Trump Jr, or GOP spokesperson Elizabeth Harrington -- also played key roles in spreading the falsehood.

Trump's family took to Twitter to question why GOP lawmakers were not rushing to his defense. "Where are Republicans! Have some backbone. Fight against this fraud. Our voters will never forget you if your sheep!" Trump's son Eric tweeted. Agencies

1.23L Covid cases reported after voting ends

PHILADEPHIA

OVER 1,20,000 coronavirus cases were reported in the US in the past 24 hours, smashing a daily record set the day before, a tally by Johns Hopkins University found.

The country reported 1,23,085 new infections between 8:30 pm Wednesday and 8:30 pm Thursday (0130 GMT), and 1,226 more deaths, the tally by the Baltimore-based school showed.

On Wednesday, 99,660 new cases of the virus were reported. Thursday's tally shatters that record by 23,425.

While deaths remain lower than their worst levels in the spring, Thursday was also the third day in a row that fatalities were above 1,000. The last time people were dying at that rate of Covid-19 in the US was early September. Over 9.6 million people have been infected and 234,000 have died in the US. AFP

Trump beats expectations with Latino vote

SANTA FE

DONALD Trump and his Republican allies made significant inroads with Latino voters in Tuesday's election, alarming some Democrats who warned that immigration politics alone was not enough to hold their edge with the nation's largest minority group.

Trump's strong performance with Cuban Americans in South Florida narrowed the traditional Democratic edge in Miami-Dade County and helped put Florida in Trump's column early Tuesday. In Texas, Trump won tens of thousands of new supporters in predominantly Mexican American communities along the border. Trump's appeal to Latino voters is no surprise to veteran political observers in those states.

Biden still won a sizable majority of Latino voters — 63% nationwide, compared to Trump's 35%, according to AP VoteCast. AP

Centre may expand ambit of ECLG scheme

Plan includes making more businesses and professionals eligible for the benefits provided by the relief measure

ANURADHA SHUKLA @ New Delhi

HAVING extended the deadline for the Emergency Credit Line Guarantee Scheme (ECLGS) for MSMEs by one month, the government is now planning to include more businesses and professionals under its ambit since the scheme is struggling to meet the target of ₹3 lakh crore.

The ECLGS was launched as a part of the Aatmanirbhar Bharat package announced by finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman in May to help MSMEs fight liquidity stress.

The scheme has a corpus of ₹3 lakh crore, but despite a push by the government, only ₹1.48 lakh crore has been disbursed so far.

"We have received feedback from both the businesses and the banks. We are considering increasing the upper ceiling for outstanding loans and include more sectors under its ambit. If required, the deadline can be extended further," a senior official from the finance ministry told this publication.

Under the scheme, banks provide fully guaranteed and collateral-free additional credit, up to 20 per cent of their credit outstanding as on February 29, 2020, to MSMEs, business enterprises, individual loans for business purposes, and MUDRA borrowers.

Interest rates for loans taken under the scheme are capped at 9.25 per cent for banks and financial institutions (FIs), and at 14 per cent for non-banking financial companies (NBFCs). The tenor of loans provided under the scheme is four years, including a moratorium of one year on principal repayment.

According to sata shared by the finance ministry, an amount of ₹2.03 lakh crore has already been sanctioned under the scheme to 60.67 lakh borrowers so far, of which ₹1.48 lakh crore has been disbursed.

Whatsapp payment service available in 10 languages

Facebook Chief Executive Officer Mark Zuckerberg said in a video message on Friday that Whatsapp's payment service will be available in India in 10 different languages , which will be supported by more than 140 banks. "We've been working on this with the NPCI, who oversee everything to make sure it's secure and reliable. And we've built it using India's Unified Payments Interface, which makes it easy for anyone to instantly accept payments across different apps—and for companies to provide people with great services," he said.

RBI Deputy Governor Rao moots tighter rules for large NBFCs

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THERE is a need for strong regulation as far non-banking financial institutions (NBFCs) are concerned, according RBI deputy governor M Rajeshwar Rao. In his first public speech since he assumed the role, Rao said on Friday that NBFCs, with significant externalities and which contribute substantially to systemic risks, must be subjected to a higher degree of regulation in order to preserve financial stability.

Beyond a point of criticality to systemic risks, such NBFC should have incentives either to convert into a commercial bank or scale down their network externalities

MR Rao, Deputy Governor, RBI

"One can also argue that the design of a prudential regulatory framework for such NBFCs can be comparable with banks so that beyond a point of criticality to systemic risks, such NBFC should have incentives either to convert into a commercial bank or scale down their network externalities within the financial system," Rao said, while addressing the National e-Summit on NBFCs.

However, he added, it is imperative to strike a balance between regulating NBFCs more tightly and the need for flexibility to strengthen the sector and prepare it for long-term sustained growth. "Let's not forget that regulation-light structure of NBFCs has enabled flexibility-the primary advantage of NBFCs over banks, enabling them to serve the last mile of financial intermediation," he noted.

Given the diversity of activities carried out by different NBFCs, there can be no 'one-size-fits-all' approach for regulation, he went on to say, adding that a calibrated and graded regulatory framework, proportionate to the systemic significance of entities concerned, is the correct way forward.

This may include having a relook on the regulation of microfinance institutions, and eliminating the regulatory arbitrage enjoyed by certain NBFCs that are neither too big to cause systemic instability, nor small enough to be ignored. The banking regulator had created a category of NBFC-MFIs after the 2010 Andhra Pradesh microfinance crisis.

"Much water has flown under the bridge since then. Several large MFIs have converted into small finance banks. The share of NBFC-MFIs in the overall microfinance sector has come down," Rao noted.

IOB NET PROFIT RISES TO ₹148 CR AS ASSET QUALITY IMPROVES

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

STATE-run Indian Overseas Bank (IOB) on Friday reported a net profit of ₹148 crore for the second quarter of the current financial year (Q2FY21) due to lower provisions and declining bad loan levels. The bank has recorded a net loss of ₹2,254 crore in the July-September quarter a year ago. Sequentially, net profit grew 22.3 per cent from ₹121 crore in the June quarter.

Despite showing consistent improvements on key parameters and reporting a net profit for three subsequent quarters, the Chennai-headquartered bank has decided against making an appeal to exit the Prompt Corrective Action (PCA) framework of the Reserve Bank since the next two quarters may throw fresh asset quality challenges driven by the pandemic.

"We are not making an appeal to RBI for an exit from the PCA framework because we want to see the impact of Covid-19 on the balance sheet. The impact would be largely seen in the December and March quarters," said CEO Partha Pratim Sengupta. There was a substantial improvement in the bank's asset quality with the gross non-performing assets (NPAs) plunging to 13.04 per cent of gross advances from 20 per cent at the end of September 2019. In value terms, gross NPAs or bad loans fell to ₹17,659.63 crore as against ₹28,673.95 crore a year ago, while net NPAs reduced to 4.3 per cent (₹5,290.60 crore) from 9.84 per cent (₹12,507.97 crore) a year ago. Total fresh slippages during the September quarter were contained at ₹292 crore.

Provisions for bad loans and contingencies fell to ₹1,192.55 crore during the quarter under review from ₹2,996.04 crore in the year-ago quarter. IOB said it has made required provisioning in specific accounts to improve net NPAs. "The bank has evolved a policy of not taking fresh exposures in stressed sectors, below hurdle rated accounts and BB and below rated accounts," the lender said.

BoI aims to shrink bad loans by ₹12K cr

NIM under pressure

The bank's domestic net interest margin (NIM) stood at 2.88 per cent compared to 3.36 per cent a year ago. Transmission of rates has impacted margins and NIMs will continue to remain under stress, says CEO.

We have got a ₹12,000 crore Non-performing asset reduction target for the entire current fiscal year. Out of this, we are already almost through with about 50 per cent

A K Das, MD & CEO, Bank of India

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

STATE-owned Bank of India aims to reduce its bad loan levels by ₹12,000 crore in FY21, said managing director and CEO A K Das on Friday, adding that the lender also has plans to increase its loan book by 7 per cent and deposits by 10 per cent for the fiscal year.

Das was speaking after announcing its second quarter financial performance, for which the bank reported a net profit of ₹526 crore, an increase of 97.7 per cent from the same period last year.

The bank's gross non-performing assets (GNPA) declined to 13.79 per cent in September 2020, from 16.31 per cent in September 2019 while net NPAs declined to 2.89 per cent from 5.87 per cent in September 2019. Das said dedicated recovery efforts have helped in reduction of bad loans. "We have got a ₹12,000 crore NPA reduction target for the entire year, out of which we are almost through with 50 per cent," he said. Besides, there has also been a robust improvement in the bank's asset quality and net interest income.

Das said efficient collection and good operational practices had helped the bank put up a good performance, but also expressed concerns over the pressure on the bank's margins.

Google Pay hits out at NPCI's UPI transaction cap

BISMAH MALIK @ Bengaluru

DIGITAL payment firm Google Pay has come out strongly against the National Payments Corporation of India's (NPCIs) move capping the amount of UPI transactions a third-party application (TPA) can handle at 30 per cent. NPCI had said on Thursday that all TPAs will have to comply with the 30 per cent volume cap with effect from January 1, 2021. TPAs with a share above the specified limit such as Google Pay and Phone Pe have been given two years starting January, 2021 to comply with the guidelines in a phased manner.

Industry experts say that the decision may ultimately impact UPI transactions at the consumer level and there are apprehensions that TPAs will limit the volume and value of transactions per customer.

The number of UPI transactions breached the two billion per month mark in October and TPAs like Phone Pe and Google Pay accounted for 80 per cent of overall transactions. Phone Pe said that it processed 835 million transactions in October, slightly higher than Google Pay. Both the TPAs currently have a share of more than 40 per cent of overall UPI transactions. With Facebook-backed Whatsapp going live with its payment service for 20 million users from Friday, NPCI's UPI transactions cap seems to be an attempt to prevent the dominance of any single player in crucial market, according to experts.

"This announcement has come as a surprise and has implications for hundreds of millions of users who use UPI for their daily payments and could impact the further adoption of UPI and the end goal of financial inclusion. Digital payments in India is still in its infancy and any interventions at this point should be made with a view to accelerate consumer choice and innovation. Choice-based and open model key to drive momentum," Google Pay said on Friday. PhonePe when contacted offered no comments over the issue.

ASIANOMICS

PAKISTAN

ANNUAL INFLATION RISES 8.9% IN OCTOBER

Pakistan's annual inflation was up 8.9% in October over last year led by rising prices of vegetables, eggs, pulses and other commodities. In September, it stood at 9%, while prices of some products like wheat have broken all records touching sky-high levels. For instance, prices of lentils crossed ₹200 per kg, while a dozen eggs shot up to ₹150. According to the official statisticians, prices of fruits, vegetables, eggs, pulses, fresh milk and chicken led to the spike in retail inflation last month and the period prior. According to the IMF's latest World Economic Outlook report, Pakistan's economy could grow by only 1%, but inflation may surpass 10%. In fact, it even projected that Pakistan was in stagflation—a condition in which the economic growth rate is slow while unemployment and prices of goods and services are high. Pakistan's economy, which last fiscal contracted by 0.4%, is projected to grow by 1% in FY21, according to the IMF.

MALAYSIA

HOUSEHOLD DEBT SHOOTING THROUGH THE ROOF

Malaysia's household debt-to-GDP—the second highest in Asia—is expected to touch 90% in 2020, according to estimates. The ratio has already exceeded several high-income nations, including the US and Japan. Last year, it stood at 82.7% as against 82% in 2018. It peaked to 86.9% in 2015. This year, even though the growth in debt has been slower, the debt-to-GDP ratio rose above the peak seen in 2015 to 87.5% as on June. But that was largely due to the sharp contraction of 17.1% in Q2 over last year. This was also Malaysia's worst set of numbers since the Asian Financial Crisis in 1997. The World Bank estimates that its economy would take a bigger hit from the pandemic, with real GDP contracting by 4.9% instead of 3.1% in 2020. The central bank is, however, projecting a GDP contraction of 3.5% to 5.5% this year.

JAPAN

PRIME MINISTER ROOTS FOR CURRENCY STABILITY

Japanese Prime Minister Yoshihide Suga vowed to work closely with overseas authorities to keep currency moves stable, signalling his readiness to respond to any spike in the yen that may threaten to derail the country's fragile economic recovery, according to Reuters. The dollar fell to 103.59 yen in Asia on Friday, close to an eight-month low, as a contentious US presidential election diminished hopes for a large stimulus to support the economy any time soon. A yen spike has historically been a trigger for monetary easing by the central bank and jawboning from authorities keen to prevent a rise in the yen from hurting Japan's export-reliant economy. Analysts see 100 yen to the dollar as Japan's line-in-the-sand. Some expect the BOJ to deepen negative interest rates if the yen spikes, though that option is also controversial given the strain years of ultra-low rates are inflicting on financial institutions' profits.

ITC profit falls 19.7% as hotels, cigarettes tank

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TOBACCO-to-FMCG major ITC has reported a 19.7 per cent year-on-year decline in net profit for the second quarter of the current financial year. The company's earnings were dented primarily by the cigarettes and hotel segments. The FMCG vertical, however, remained strong for the quarter despite being faced with supply chain and labour constraints.

ITC's net profit fell to ₹3,232.4 crore during the quarter, compared to ₹4,023.1 crore in the same period last year, it said in its BSE filing. Revenue from operations grew by 0.9 per cent year-on-year to ₹11,976.8 crore. At the operating level, its earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation (EBITDA) dropped 11 per cent year-on-year to ₹4,060 crore and margin contracted 4.5 per cent y-o-y to 33.9 per cent.

Segment-wise, revenue from the hotels business fell sharply to ₹81.96 crore, a 80.8 per cent decline from ₹426.63 crore the previous year. Loss at the EBIT level stood at ₹184.90 crore against an EBIT profit of ₹17.43 crore in the same period last year. Revenue from the cigarette business dipped 3.9 per cent at ₹5,121.3 crore for the quarter with earnings before interest and tax (EBIT) falling 15.6 per cent since sales took a hit during July-August; but FMCG registered a 15.4 per cent year-on-year growth.

Yamaha's market share goal untouched by Covid

BINITA JAISWAL @ Chennai

YAMAHA Motor India is confident that it will be able to double its market share in India over the next five years. According to top officials, the pandemic has not changed the company's plan to achieve a 10 per cent market share in India by 2025. It currently has a market share is 3.9 per cent.

According to Ravinder Singh, senior vice president, Yamaha Motor India Sales, the company's strategy to increase its market share is to create more exciting experiences for customers through sporty and stylish models. "In 2021, the company will be maximizing its reach to the potential customers more through digital platforms and various retail initiatives in order to keep pace with the return of economic activity," Singh added.

He said that the pandemic and the subsequent lockdown had led to a huge retail loss and disrupted supply chains across the two-wheeler industry. However, since July, Yamaha has been witnessing an uptick in demand and Singh noted that they expected better sales during the ongoing festive season.

"Yamaha's first effort had been in meticulously evaluating the retail ecosystem which is the lifeblood to any business. We stayed electronically connected even with the most remote employee and which helped us to complete a thorough evaluation of stocks and inventory, along with setting monitoring strategies that were implemented as soon as the restrictions were relaxed. Alternatively, we had prepared to digitally connect with all customers with the help of social media and internet-based services," he said.

Singh also believes that the two-wheeler industry will be aided by physical distancing norms, which may provide an additional impetus to personal vehicles. "Manufacturers must have realized by now the potential market..," he said.

Reduce EV costs to scale up volumes: Gadkari

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

NITIN Gadkari, Union Minister of Road Transport and Highways, on Friday called upon automobile manufacturers to reduce cost of electric vehicles (EVs) in order to achieve volumes.

"I urge industry players to reduce the cost of EVs to increase adaptation. While manufacturers may have to bear losses for the first few years, lower prices of EVs will drive sale and make the segment economically viable for everyone. However, at present manufacturers are not reducing the price because of which sales are not picking up," the minister said while inaugurating the India Electric Mobility Summit.

Automakers in India feel that charging infrastructure remains inadequate to support a large number of EVs on the roads.

Added to this, the cost of EVs, especially battery powered four-wheelers, is significantly higher than comparable fossil-fuel vehicles since a majority of the components used in them are imported.

Gadkari said that Indian manufacturers have the capability to make efficient EVs not only for the local market but also globally. Manufacturers, he noted, can also look at making lithium cells in India. "We need to have an integrated approach for EVs as it solves two of our major concerns- import of crude oil and air pollution," he said.

Pawan Goenka, MD & CEO,t Mahindra & Mahindra said that the government's push over the past three years has not yielded significant results yet. "I think the government has done its part and now the manufacturer have to invest on technology, product and capacity," he said.

Indian coffee prices set to see sharp decline

BISMAH MALIK @ Bengaluru

INDIAN coffee prices are expected to witness a sharp decline since demand for the beverage has plummeted sharply post Covid-related disruption in key international markets including Europe. Prices of both the Arabica and Robusta varieties are already lower than last year.

According to Karnataka Planters Association (KPA), Arabica parchments are selling at an average of ₹9,600 per 15-kilo bag now compared to ₹11,000 last year. Similarly, prices have fallen by more than half to ₹5,600 per 15 kg bag for robusta parchments. The KPA estimates that the prices are likely to reduce further with a second lockdown now in place in various European countries. This holds especially true for premium coffee varieties which are mainly used in cafes that are currently shut. There are also fears that Indian varieties may be replaced by cheaper substitutes.

India's coffee exports suffered losses worth over ₹200 crore due to the pandemic and the industry estimates this to rise to ₹700 crore. Poor weather and the pandemic have already impacted nearly 60-70 per cent of coffee produce in various districts of Karnataka. The state currently accounts for more than 70 per cent of India's coffee production. Domestic production for 2019-20 stood at 2,98,000 MT against 3,19,500 MT in 2018-19.

With over 50 per cent of the 5 lakh workers on coffee plantations hailing from other states, a labour shortage is looming. "The shortage of workers from North India will pose a serious challenge to the growers here. Any delay will hamper coffee production, especially if they are not picked and processed on time," Shirish Vijayendra, chairman, KPA said.

Where there's a Will, there's a way

Williamson's 50 and Holder's all-round show end RCB's campaign, Hyderabad to face Delhi for place in final

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

THE IPL crowd is used to thrillers where fours and sixes rain in the closing stages and teams chase down improbable targets. The ongoing edition in the UAE saw a record for the highest successful chase in the history of the tournament. Friday's Eliminator between Sunrisers Hyderabad and Royal Challengers Bangalore showed there can be other kinds of thriller also.

It was not the typical IPL match fans have got accustomed to. But the low-scoring affair had its share of suspense, drama and intrigue nonetheless. Despite having just 131 on the board, Bangalore made Hyderabad work hard and took the match to the last over.

Only then did the target they had set prove inadequate, as Hyderabad set up a Qualifier 2 clash against Delhi Capitals to be played at the same venue on Sunday.

At 67/4 in the 12th over, Hyderabad were in trouble. Leg-spinners Adam Zampa, who replaced an injured Chris Morris, and Yuzvendra Chahal kept them guessing. The Australian was their standout bowler, with figures of 4-0-12-1. But an unbroken partnership between Kane Williamson and Jason Holder dashed Bangalore's hopes. Rather quiet this season, Williamson's 44-ball 50 not out held the innings together. Under pressure, it was sensible batting from both, devoid of risks with few big hits.

Jason Holder picked up three wickets and scored 24 with the bat on Friday | SPORTZPICS

Unsold at the last IPL auctions despite having a relatively low base price of ₹75 lakh, Holder was primarily responsible for denting Bangalore at the start. Not express, but one who generates bounce due to his height, Holder took the first two wickets and finished with match-defining figures of 4-0-25-3. Signed up as replacement of the injured Mitch Marsh, in six games he has 13 wickets, as many as he has taken in 17 appearances for West Indies. Holder's 24 not out off 20 balls was no less valuable.

While Bangalore deserve credit for the way they fought back and stretched the game to the end, it was a batting failure on their part that saw them crash out. Asked to bat on a pitch that was slow and offered turn, their innings never took off after losing Virat Kohli in the second over. Devdutt Padikkal, the other in-form batsman, fell in the fourth. Even though AB de Villiers struck 56 off 43, the collective failure of other batters let Bangalore down.

A persistent fall of wickets left De Villiers as the lone one carrying Bangalore's hopes. But spinners Rashid Khan and Shahbaz Nadeem made it a struggle for the great South African. Like Holder, Nadeem was playing his sixth match this season. He won the mind game with De Villiers by outthinking him as Bangalore posted only 131/7 on board.

Brief scores: Bangalore 131/7 in 20 ovs (De Villiers 56, Holder 3/25, Natarajan 2/33) lost to Hyderabad 132/4 in 19.4 ovs (Williamson 50 n.o, Holder 24 n.o, Siraj 2/28).

Hearing begins in NSF case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

A DELHI HC special bench of Justices Hima Kohli and Najmi Waziri heard the fresh petition filed by sports lawyer Rahul Mehra on Tuesday and asked the sports ministry to show whether the 41 National Sports Federations comply with National Sports Development Code of India (2011). The Delhi HC constituted the special bench to hear a plea of Mehra that contended sports ministry's recognition to 41 NSFs was "arbitrary" as federations don't comply with sports code in letter and spirit. In his petition, Mehra urged the court to grant recognition to NSFs only if they comply with the Sports Code.

FC GOA FOCUS ON FITNESS, RECOVERY BEFORE KICK-OFF

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

THE Indian Super League season is going to be unique in many ways. Not only will it be played in a bio-secure environment, no spectators and one host state for all teams are some of the firsts in the ISL during the ongoing pandemic. If the off-field challenges are aplenty, it is not going to be any easy on the pitch for the players, who have been out of competitive action for the last six to seven months.

Several teams started their training with Indian players early October, but they were not at full strength and it was staggered training too. Foreign players and head coaches had visa issues, which delayed their arrival to some extent. Now, all teams are more or less in full strength and in pre-season mode in Goa. But coaches do not have much time — as compared to previous seasons — to prepare their teams for the league, which kicks off on November 20, but FC Goa coach Juan Ferrando is pleased to see his team start training on the pitch.

"I am happy that now we are working on the pitch. That is the most important thing for us. The time (preparation) is very short, the tournament starts in more or less about ten days. We didn't have a lot of time in pre-season but I have been telling our coaching staff to prepare the team, also our medical team has been working hard on the recovery program," the gaffer said in a virtual interaction.

"In Europe, the Champions League, Premier League, there have been injuries. After a few months, there will be stress and a lot of games in 2-3 weeks, so it is very important for everybody to be ready."

If the ISL, like other European leagues, also decide to increase substitutions from three to five, it could come as a huge relief for teams. No matter what, the seventh edition is going to be a tough one, but there is one silver lining. With the league being held in just one state, there is no travelling, meaning players will get more time for rest and recovery.

"In this case, maybe it is a positive. You are not travelling for games for hours. It is good. After you finish the game, there can be recovery time for players," said Ferrando.

Meeting off, wrestling worlds now doubtful

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

POSTPONEMENT of the executive committee meeting of United World Wrestling (UWW) has cast a doubt on the World Championships slated from December 12 to 20 in Belgrade. The meeting scheduled for November 5 has been postponed to November 12. Indian wrestlers are scheduled to participate in the event in all 10 weight categories in each format (men's freestyle and Greco-Roman, women's freestyle).

Three national federations including heavyweights USA and Japan had already opted out of the event. Cuba was the latest to join the list. The world body last month cancelled the Junior World Championships slated at the same venue saying that conditions for holding the event were not met.

"We will wait till November 12 before deciding our future course of action," Vinod Tomar, Wrestling Federation of India's (WFI's) assistant secretary, told this daily. The WFI had planned to hold selection trials in a few weight categories for the world meet. The federation also had plans to call grapplers from non-Olympic categories to the camp to give them a chance to make it to the World Championship.

"Wrestlers from non-Olympic weight categories will join if the UWW goes ahead with the championships. Europe is witnessing a second wave of Covid-19 infection. We are not sure what the world body will decide. We have sent a tentative list of wrestlers to the UWW to confirm our participation," added Tomar. Four freestyle wrestlers in each division (total five Olympic weight categories) are attending the national camp at SAI centre in Sonepat. Greco-Roman wrestlers from three weight categories are also part of the camp. Besides, 25 women wrestlers and support staff are camping at SAI centre in Lucknow. "The camp will continue in 2021 keeping in mind next year's events. As far as the national championship is concerned, we will take a call after getting feedback from the Uttar Pradesh government next week," informed Tomar. The nationals are scheduled in Gonda, UP, from December 18 to 20.

International events, where Indian wrestlers are expected to participate next year, are Asian Championships from February 16 to 21 in Kazakhstan, Asia Olympic Qualifier from March 26 to 28 in China and World Olympic Games Qualifier from April 29 to May 2 in Bulgaria.

Nadal's dream of maiden Paris title alive

AP @ Paris

TOP-SEEDED Rafael Nadal stayed on course for an elusive first title at the Paris Masters after beating Jordan Thompson 6-1, 7-6 (3) on Thursday to reach the quarterfinals.

Nadal has won 86 career titles, including 35 in Masters events, but lost his only final at the Bercy Indoor Arena in Paris 13 years ago.

Thompson found his range in the second set, hitting a couple of big winners down the line and forcing a set point with Nadal serving at 6-5. After a decent second serve, Nadal saved it after a long rally.

"He played well, so I give credit to him. He started to change directions very well with the serve, hitting the right spots," Nadal said.

But Thompson threw his racket onto the ground in frustration after losing the next point and Nadal's sharp backhand volley at the net took it into a tiebreaker.

The unseeded Australian saved one match point with his third ace of the tiebreaker, but on the next opportunity Nadal pushed his opponent to the back of the court and Thompson's forehand sank into the net. Alexander Zverev needed three hours to beat unseeded Frenchman Adrian Mannarino 7-6 (11), 6-7 (7), 6-4.

He next faces three-time Grand Slam champion Stan Wawrinka, after the Swiss veteran rallied to beat fifth-seeded Russian Andrey Rublev 1-6, 6-4, 6-3. In other third-round matches, 2014 runner-up Milos Raonic advanced after beating American qualifier Marcos Giron 7-6 (1), 6-2.

WORKING IT OUT

As the professional world returns to normalcy, co-working spaces seem to be the go-to option for several reasons

• Simran Ahuja

Until September this year, ed-tech startup MySchoolPage had its Bengaluru office located in JP Nagar. But for a bootstrapped company, expenses have always been a monkey on the back, more so after the Covid-19 pandemic. In a bid to reduce their fixed and infrastructure costs, CEO Devadas Krishnan eventually took the decision to let go of the 70-seater place they had on lease. The company now works out of a co-working space called 91springboard. "My per seat cost has come down to ₹7,000 plus taxes. Earlier, the same was between ₹18,000 and ₹20,000," says Krishnan.

MySchoolPage is not the only one. Co-working spaces across Bengaluru are slowly seeing an uptake in their numbers again as people venture back into the workspace. And it's not just old clients returning to their place at a co-working space. According to Anand Vemuri, CEO of 91springboard, about 30 per cent of the clients they see across their six centres in the city are new individuals or companies. As the professional world returns to normalcy, companies are looking at the benefits of flexible spaces. "Before the pandemic, we saw 5,000-6,000 seats being occupied across our spaces in Bengaluru. Now, it stands at 2,000," says Vemuri, adding that if the trend remains the same, the numbers would assume pre-pandemic normalcy in the first quarter of the next financial year.

At 315Work Avenue, 40 per cent of their clients have returned to work, while the rest, says founder Manas Mehrotra, have retained the office and are expected to return in a couple of months. The space also reports new sign-ups from large enterprises and MNCs. "Most of our new sign-ups are companies trying to build on flexibility. Whether they are downsizing or expanding, it works for them. With the pandemic setting in deep, companies find co-working spaces ideal as they could station teams here to ensure social distancing at both the original office space and here," says Mehrotra. Recently, they leased 12,650 sq.ft of office space to Tata Technologies, which was custom-crafted within two months. "The need for flexible space will only rise in the current scenario, as corporates will look to cut capex on setting up own offices. It will also help them remain agile and retain flexibility to adjust operations based on the market conditions," says Mehrotra.

Devadas Krishnan

Santosh Martin, head of sales, WeWork India, echoes a similar view. He says, "The option of flexible working can reduce the expense of running an office by approximately 15-20 per cent by eliminating hefty deposits, long-term leases, and other expenses."

But there are more reasons prompting companies to opt for flexible alternatives. About 10 per cent of Krishnan's staff is currently working out of a co-working space while the rest works from home. "But since I have signed up for a hybrid model, my employees, who are in Kolkata, Mumbai and Jaipur, can just head to a 91springboard office in their city and work out of there when they are ready," he explains. Vemuri attests, "Earlier, companies would take, say 'x', number of seats in just our Koramangala space for all employees to work out of there. Now, they take seats across the spaces we have in the city."

"The need for flexible space will only rise in the current scenario, as corporates will look to cut capex on setting up own offices

BENGALURU BEATS

'NEED IMPROVED HYGIENE MEASURES AT CITY STADIUMS'

I have travelled to so many places within and outside India, but trust me when I say that Bengaluru is one of the best cities, whether you look at the climate or the green cover right in the middle of the town. It gives you chance to breathe in some fresh air or even spend your time with your pet or family. I know that many high-rise buildings have come up over a period of time, but that has not taken away the city's beauty.

Golfer

Yes, there are many things that can be done to make it better, especially its roads. I live on the outskirts of the city, near Eagleton The Golf Resort near Bidadi. If I have to come to the city, I have to plan the whole day around it. Even for a person living in the city, it's difficult to travel on these roads after an 8-hour work day.

Even from the sports perspective, Bengaluru is a city with great amenities. I see so many sportspersons coming to practise here. But when it comes to maintenance of stadiums, there can be a much better job done, especially about the hygiene standards. When a sportsperson goes for practice, there should be a positive atmosphere created for them. Seeing so much of trash around just changes the mood. I have not visited Sree Kanteerava Stadium for the past eight month due to the lockdown, but these are small changes that will make it even better.

Solution: Everything should not be left for officials to do. Citizens can also take some things in their hands. Athletes as well as the audience should not discard trash in the stadium. The amount of plastic collected from the stadium is insane. It's easier to carry reusable bottles. Since I live on the outskirts, I see all of city's trash directed towards this part. And plastic forms the major part of the garbage. People should be more conscious about using plastic.

Let your mixed feelings about Bengaluru get stirred up, as an influential person talks about things nice and nasty about the city in this weekly column

COVID-19 RELIEF SERVICE CAMPAIGN: 'FOR A BETTER TOMORROW'

BY SOCIETE GENERALE | IMPLEMENTING PARTNER: SAMARTHANAM TRUST

Supported by Societe Generale, R. Latha, DC, Chikballapur District & Shivaram Deshpande of Samarthanam Trust distributing relief kits to ASHA workers.

To help India fight against the Covid-19 pandemic, Samarthanam Trust has stood at the forefront and responded to the call of humanity to help people in need. Many Covid-19 relief campaigns have been deployed across all cities where Samarthanam is present.

Societe Generale has partnered with Samarthanam Trust for the Disabled to assist their programmes, specifically, to support front line health professionals and hospitals to fight the virus, and also help vulnerable communities by providing them with essential hygiene and nutrition needs.

Mahantesh G.K, Founder of Samarthanam Trust for the Disabled said, "Societe Generale and Samarthanam have together been addressing challenges in society. And during such crises we are doing our bit by positively contributing meals, groceries, hygiene kits and other essentials to the affected communities. We are also supporting hospitals and providing PPE kits to doctors and health professionals to equip them to combat this pandemic."

Sunil Shah, Chief Executive Officer & Global Head, Societe Generale Global Solution Centre and Global Head, Societe Generale European Business Services said, "Societe Generale's commitment to CSR has always been strong, and our employees are active in volunteering and contributing to society. In this relief program our employees have joined in mobilising to raise funds and added to the contribution of the company. Through these efforts and our partnership with NGOs, we hope to play a small role in alleviating the situation in the country."

About the World Solidarity Programme

As part of its 'World Solidarity Programme', Societe Generale, with the mobilisation of all its teams in India, has committed to donate over 50 million Indian rupees (650,000 euros) in support of those affected by the Covid-19 pandemic in major cities like Delhi, Mumbai, Bangalore and Chennai.

In India the programmes are focusing on:

- Supporting health professionals, community health and welfare workers and hospitals with medical gear to safeguard their health and protect them from contracting infections
- Giving essential items and creating awareness on safety through informational material delivered via phone and mobile vehicles making public announcements
- Providing those impacted by loss of earnings including migrant and daily wage workers, people with disabilities, pregnant women and elderly population with necessities
- Helping with mental wellness and counselling to families.

The importance of this financial support demonstrates the spirit and commitment of over 8,000 staff, joining Societe Generale and its Indian entities to raise the total amount donated.

Samarthanam Trust for the Disabled, founded in 1997 by G.K. Mahantesh is an NGO which is working towards facilitating and empowering people with disabilities and the underprivileged on various socio-economic-cultural fronts. Samarthanam advocates inclusion, equal opportunities, holistic development of the disabled and economically weak.

FIT BIT

PURNA BHUJANGASANA
(FULL COBRA POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'Purna' means 'full', 'Bhujanga' means 'snake', and 'asana' means 'pose'. Your spine ought to have a good flexibility if you wish to accomplish this posture. However, start by practising it, so that you're not affected by any back pain. While attempting this posture, you may be ready to unleash the stiffness of your entire back – cervical, middle and lumbar back – as well as loosen your neck. By doing this posture, our spine becomes as versatile as that of a snake. Besides the back, it stimulates our heart and chest. It is performed under the guidance of an expert.

STEPS

- Lie down on your stomach. Your forehead should be relaxed and resting on the ground.
- Now, keep your legs joined together and your arms near the body.
- Keep your hands beside the chest, palms pointing to the ground.
- Now, inhale and slowly raise your upper body, till the navel. Avoid jerky movements. Try to be gentle and slow.
- Exhale and bend your spine backwards.
- Release your neck. Try to hold this position for thirty seconds.
- Now, gently elevate your legs along with bent knees, and try to place your feet as near the head as possible.
- You can try to touch your head with your toes.
- Try to hold this position for thirty seconds.
- Exhale and come back to the initial position. You can slowly put down your legs first, and then the torso.

BENEFITS

- Removes stiffness from your neck, chest and shoulders.
- Stretches the abdominal muscles.
- Helps to remove abdominal fat.
- Beneficial in many male urino-genital problems and female gynecological problems.
- Relieves back pain by strengthening the muscles of the back.
- Makes the spine strong and flexible.
- Stimulates the endocrine and digestive systems.
- Beneficial for cervical spondylitis.
- Improves blood flow to the sexual organ.

LIMITATIONS

- People with severe back and joint pain, spinal injury and disorders, high blood pressure, hernia, hyperthyroidism, ulcer, intestinal tuberculosis or cervical spondylitis, abdomen surgeries and pregnant women must strictly avoid this pose.

1 HOW HIGH CAN YOU COUNT ON YOUR FINGERS? BY JAMES TANTON

How high can you count on your fingers? It seems like a question with an obvious answer. After all, most of us have ten fingers – or to be more precise, eight fingers and two thumbs. This gives us a total of ten digits on our two hands, which we use to count to ten. But is that really as high as we can go? James Tanton investigates.

BLUEBERRY COULIS

INGREDIENTS:

Blueberry puree: 70gm
Water: 25ml
Sugar: 20gm

METHOD:

1. Put all the ingredients in a heavy bottomed pan and cook on low heat till the sugar dissolves.
2. Cook till the sauce thickens a bit, strain through a fine sieve and cool.

Recipe: Sanjay Tyagi, partner & chef, Northwest Kebab & Curryhouse

BLUEBERRY PHIRNI

INGREDIENTS:

Full fat milk: 1 ltr
Basmati rice: 100 gm
Blueberry puree: 100 gm
Sugar: 150 gm

METHOD:

1. Soak and wash rice, drain and pat dry. Blend to a coarse powder in a blender, much to resemble semolina.
2. Boil milk; add rice and stir constantly to avoid lumps. Add water if necessary and cook until done. The rice on cooking will absorb and thicken the milk.
3. Reduce heat, add sugar and stir well until it dissolves. Remove from heat to cool, add the blueberry puree and stir to form a smooth mixture. Transfer the mixture to the log shaped flexi mold and chill to firm up in the refrigerator.
4. Place the set Blueberry Phirni on the plate and spoon dots of the Blueberry coulis on the plate.

NARANGI KI PHIRNI

INGREDIENTS:

Full cream milk: 1 ¼ litres
Basmati rice, soaked: 1/4th cup
Saffron: a pinch
Pistachio nuts, slivered: 6
Almonds, slivered: 12
Sugar: 1/2 cup or as required
Green cardamom powder: ½ teaspoon
Rose water: ½ tbsp
Fresh orange pulp, strained: ½ cup
Orange pulp: 1 tbsp.
Pistachio nuts: 6
Almonds: 6

METHOD:

1. Pick, wash and soak rice for one hour.
2. Boil milk in a heavy bottomed pan and set aside. Drain and grind the rice coarsely.
3. Cut pistachios and almonds into slivers.
4. Add the coarsely ground rice paste to the milk and cook, stirring continuously so that there are no lumps and it does not burn or stick to the bottom of the pan.
5. Add sugar and mix. Add green cardamom powder, saffron and mix. Add rose water.
6. When the mixtures start thickening, take it off the flame. Let it cool down completely.
7. Add the strained fresh orange pulp. Mix well.
8. Pour into serving bowls and keep them in the refrigerator to chill for 4 hours.
9. Garnish with slivered pistachio nuts and almonds and serve chilled.

MOCHAR CUTLET

INGREDIENTS:

Boiled and squeezed banana flowers (mashed partially): 600 gm
Potato (peeled, boiled, and mashed): 400 gm
Finely chopped onions: 350 gm
Grated coconut: 3 tbsp
Roasted peanuts (peeled and broken into pieces): 1.5 tbsp
Ginger paste: 1.5 tsp
Turmeric powder: ½ tsp
Finely chopped green chilies (variable): 3
Bhaja masala: 2.5 tsp
Salt: 1.5 tsp and 1 tsp
Sugar: 1.5 tsp
Lightly fried raisins: ¼ cup
Cornflour: 2.5 tbsp
Bread crumbs for coating
Oil for frying onions: 50 gms
Refined oil for deep-frying

METHOD:

1. Wear plastic gloves when you are dealing with banana flowers, as these blacken the nails. Take out the outer red cover of the flower.
2. Separate all the florets in all the layers. Discard thick red petals.
3. Chop off the whole little cone very finely, which we obtained from the inside part of a banana flower.
4. The separated florets removed initially also need to be chopped, but only after discarding the hard stick and the transparent polythene-like part from each floret.
5. Soak it in a container of water with salt and turmeric powder. Transfer the flowers to a pressure cooker with some water and 1 tsp of salt.
6. Give four whistles on a simmered flame. Immediately open the cooker and check the flowers. Strain the blossoms out and squeeze the water out from the blossoms and mash.
7. Mix with the boiled and mashed potatoes. Add chilies, grated coconut, roasted peanuts, ginger paste, bhaja masala, salt, sugar, lightly fried raisins and cornflour. Mix the dough by hand.
8. Heat 2 tbsp oil till it smokes. Fry onions till golden brown. Add the dough and mix the onions into it. Cook for around 5 minutes. Let it cool at room temperature.
9. Add a bit of sugar to the mixture and mix it thoroughly.
10. Make heart-shaped cutlets and roll these over the breadcrumbs. Deep dry and serve with Kasundi.

DRY FRUITS LADDOO

INGREDIENTS:

Almond: 100 gm
Pistachio: 100 gm
Cashew: 100 gm
Dry figs: 100 gm
Mawa: 50 gm
Honey: 330 gm
Ghee: 60 gm
Dry coconut: 120 gm

METHOD:

1. Soak dry figs one day prior
2. Shallow fry dry fruits and coconut in ghee
3. Boil sugar with little amount of water to make 1 string sugar syrup. Add honey and dry fruit mix and cook till it gets thick
4. Allow the mixture to cool, once it is cool, convert it into small rolls

From a kaju katli cocktail to a buffet-in-a-box... Here's how city restaurants are innovating their offerings for Diwali

• Monika Monalisa

Restrictions on bursting crackers, not many extended family visits and no big Diwali parties. This year, celebrations are going to be a little different from the other years. But that does not necessarily mean you have to compromise on the food. City-based restaurants are here to sort you out with their Diwali special menus.

This festive season, why just eat your desserts when you can drink them too? Check out Reservoire in Koramangala, which is introducing a Diwali special drink. "This year we have introduced a kaju katli drink, which is made of blended scotch whiskey with homemade kaju katli syrup. We also have a Mysore Mallige, made of gin and homemade jasmine cordial," says Prathik Shetty, founder of the pub. Apart from that, they also have liquor infused desserts like gulab jamun, rasgulla etc. Decor includes festive lights and seating is limited as a safety measure. "We are planning to introduce the drink from this weekend itself so that more people get to try it out," explains Shetty. Other pubs like 1522 may not have many festive specials on the menu but they are following an ethnic dress code to get into the mood of celebration.

It's impossible to create a Diwali food menu without a buffet of chaats and desserts. But keeping the pandemic in mind, many might find it risky to enjoy a spread in a crowded place. Sattvam, a chain of restaurants which follows the concept of Sattvic food, is making sure you have the buffet served at home. "We have come up with something called the Buffet-in-a-Box which has six starters, three short eats like chaats, seven main course dishes and four desserts. We are aware that many might not be keen on stepping out for a meal. This way, it's safer for them, and also gives us a chance to sustain ourselves," says Arvind Chowdhary, director-founder of the restaurant. Buffet-in-a-Box is priced at ₹899 and serves 2-3 people. Apart from that, they have also introduced the Box of Festive Treats, priced at ₹599, which is an assortment of sweet and salty snacks. "These days, not many people want to have just sweet dishes, they also want something spicy to go along with it. Along with your desserts like gulab jamun, moong dal halwa, raj bhog etc, this box also has dahi vada, dhokla, pani puri and more," says Chowdhary, adding that this box is open for pre-ordering.

What's Diwali without some shopping for diyas? Apart from their festive special, Vegan restaurant JustBe has come up with a pop-up sale. "Many people during diwali love to shop diyas, apparels, jewellery etc. We have created a pop up sale that will be on till Nov. 7," says Nidhi Nahata, founder of JustBe.

"This year we have introduced a kaju katli drink, which is made of blended scotch whiskey with homemade kaju katli syrup. We also have a Mysore Mallige, made of gin and homemade jasmine cordial

ANUJA PANDEY

ALL IN THE MIND

Mindfulness seems to be the buzzword in town these days but it's much easier spoken about than followed. It requires a habit of giving importance to details. Mindful eating during festivals sounds like a task, but it can be practised with awareness towards what and how much we eat. As they say, it's all in the mind – mindful eating is all about the choices we make.

This year, as we have been struggling to overcome the global pandemic, many of us have been bingeing – it could be screen and gadgets or even food and drinking. This gluttony is the opposite of what we are meant to achieve as human beings. The festive season has already been ushered in with Eid and Navratri just getting over and Diwali around the corner. Food, caring and sharing is the idea of a festival. But all we need is to eat mindfully, cherish every bit of it and have gratitude. Soon we shall realise that less is more. Here's how:

To prevent overeating, eat a small meal before you head to a house party

1. We have to achieve a healthy relationship with our food. It should not be your focus when you visit a friend. Savour the other aspects of a festival, like decor, fashion, games and relationships, equally.
2. Pick some healthy substitutes for your sweet tooth. The market is full of a smorgasbord of sweets but the choice you make will determine your wellness. Home cooking over outside food is more wholesome. One could do a high-fat low-carb recipe replacing sugar with stevia, like a keto almond phirni or even coconut laddoos made in jaggery, dry fruits and nuts. These high energy balls or bars could replace high on sugar recipes, like rabdi. Air frying, roasting, grilling and barbecuing could add to the fun as the whole family gets involved in the process and frying could take a back seat. Missi rotis, buckwheat and ragi pancakes and lentil dosas could be substituted for pakoras, cutlets, puris and malpua.
3. Many a times, we just load ourselves with food while hardly paying attention as we talk or play cards. We don't pay heed to how much our body requires. We must train our mind to eat less, taste every delicacy, and appreciate the effort of the host. Reduce your portions and avoid second helpings. You could eat everything if your portions are in control.
4. Eat a small meal before you head out for a house party. It will save you from over-eating.
5. Stay hydrated and drink a lot of infused water or lemon water throughout the day to avoid any dehydration, which results in low energy and headaches. Your brain could confuse this for hunger pangs.
6. A sundowner is a better time to have your guests over. It avoids late night indulgences.

Mindful eating can help your mind holds its reins over your senses. You can have a wholesome festive season with a bit of it all. Who knows, you might even find your plate full.

Pogaru music composer Chandan Shetty to join Dhruva Sarja's Dubaari

CE Features

The muhurath of the film directed by Nanda Kishore and produced by Uday K Mehta took place on Nov 6; shooting to begin by this month end

Dhruva Sarja's next, which will be directed by Nanda Kishore, has been titled Dubaari. Its tagline —'I am very costly' — has been receiving a lot of attention. The actor-director had announced that they would collaborate for a second time after Pogaru, and this has now become official, with the makers commencing the project with a simple traditional muhurath on Nov. 6. Actor Tara sounded the clapboard in the presence of senior artiste Doddanna. The film is produced by Uday K Mehta, and the makers have come out with the first poster that shows a lion, and says that the first roar will be heard soon, hinting at the first look.

Meanwhile, the makers have brought on board Pogaru music director Chandan Shetty, making it yet another repeat collaboration. The rapper and composer has delivered a successful album, with his Karabu song crossing millions of views.

Chandan Shetty

Dhruva Sarja is currently looking forward to the release of Pogaru. The film, directed by Nanda Kishore, stars Rashmika Mandanna as the female lead. The team has completed the shoot, and the film is now in the post-production stage.

BOBBY SIMHA MARKS HIS KANNADA DEBUT WITH RAKSHIT SHETTY'S 777 CHARLIE

A Sharadhaa

777 Charlie has a new addition to its cast — Bobby Simha. The National award-winning actor, who has worked in Tamil, Malayalam and Telugu cinema, will be making his Kannada debut with the comedy-drama adventure directed by Kiranraj K.

Bobby Simha will be seen in the pivotal role of a farmhouse owner, and according to the director, he will come in a crticial stage in the protagonist's (Rakshit Shetty) journey. A still shared by the director shows Bobby Simha with lead actor Rakshit Shetty and two labrador dogs.

Kiranraj K

Kiranraj, who is excited to have Bobby Simha part of the project, says, "I was looking for an actor, who has made his presence felt in different languages, and Bobby Simha was the perfect fit for the role. Rakshit made it possible. Bobby was thrilled with the narration and his character and agreed to be part of the film."

The team has completed shooting with Bobby Simha, who is said to have participated in a one-week schedule that recently took place in Kodaikanal. "I had a certain idea while sketching this character, and Bobby Simha has surpassed my expectation with his performance," says Kiran.

The film, presented by Pushkar Films, is produced by JS Gupta and Rakshit Shetty under the banner of Paramvah Studios. With dialogues written by Abhijit Mahesh, the film marks the directorial debut of Kiranraj.

While Nobin Paul is composing the music, Aravind Kashyap has handled the cinematography. 777 Charlie also features Raj B Shetty and Sangeetha Sringeri in the cast.

The actor will be playing the pivotal role of a farmhouse owner in the comedy drama adventure directed by Krianraj that also features two labradors

Ravichandran's look from the period drama Kannadiga revealed

CE Features

Director BM Giriraj of Jatta and Mythri fame now goes on floors with his period drama, Kannadiga. The shooting of the film, which is produced by NS Rajkumar and stars Crazy Star Ravichandran, has begun in Chikkamagaluru.

Ravichandran also said that he is attempting a new genre with a fresh character. The Crazy Star, who plays Gunabadra, comes from the family of scribes, and the first look revealed by the makers will pique further interest.

Kannadiga explores the character of Reverend Ferdinand Kitel, who is known for producing the first Kannada-English dictionary. Tom Alter's son Jamie Alter plays the role of Kitel in his Kannada debut.

The film also features Pavana, who is paired opposite Ravichandran, along with Jayashree, Balaji Manohar among others in prominent roles.

Kannadiga has music by Ravi Basrur, while the cinematography is handled by GSV Seetharam.

Mahesh Manjrekar begins shooting for his dream project

NH Studioz, which has been a part of films like Pink, Shivaay, Began Jaan, and Omerta, has joined hands with actor-director Mahesh Manjrekar for his untitled next. The film, a Marathi crime thriller, has started shooting its first schedule since October 28. It is touted to be the biggest Marathi release of 2021. The film is co-produced by Vijay Shinde.

Talking about the project, director Mahesh Manjrekar said, "I have been thinking about making this project for a long time, the story was already built up in my head and when I met my long-time friend Vijay Shinde on one of the occasions I narrated this storyline to him. Immediately, Vijay roped in Narendra ji, knowing his inclination towards content-driven films. With Ninety-nine productions and NH Studioz, We have the most appropriate synergy backing the film. I am deeply humbled by this and thank them for keeping faith in me and the project."

Mansore's ACT -1978 to see multiplex release on Nov 20

CE Features

Director Mansore's (Manjunatha Somashekara Reddy) ACT-1978 will be the first film to hit theatres under the new pandemic norms. This comes after a series of re-releases after the government permitted theatres to re-open on October 16. The national award-winning director who had earlier said he would release his film post Deepavali, has fixed the date for November 20. The director and cinematographer took to various media platforms to make the announcement of the release date.

The director also attached a short note explaining the hard-work of hundreds of people behind the making of the film. In a way, his movie will become a ray of hope or others in the fraternity who have been affected by the pandemic. "The success of the film which is at the hands of audiences will solve many uncertain, which has been surrounding since the lockdown (sic)," he said.

The social thriller, which has received a U certificate, will be distributed by KRG Studios and will screen at various multiplexes across Karnataka. The makers have created a hype for the film through the poster — featuring protagonist played by Yajna Shetty, and trailer — released on PRK YouTube channel. This has not only has created a stir but has raised further expectations for the film which comes from the writer and director of films like Harivu and Nathicharami.

The film, which has just one theme song, has background music scored by Rahul Shivashankar, and Ronada Bakkesh for which lyrics have been written by Jayanth Kaikini. Apart from Yajna Shetty, Act 1978 will also feature 28 artistes, including Pramod Shetty, B Suresha, Shruthi, and Achyuth Kumar.

A solid chamber drama and an affecting commentary on patriarchy

Avinash Ramachandran

Two women are held captive in a nondescript house in the middle of nowhere. They are in this situation because of the goodness of their hearts. At one point in their captivity, the women — Anuja (Kashmira Irani) and Neha (Swarda Thigale) — talk about the cowardice of their respective mothers. Both Anuja and Neha are unhappy about their mothers not standing up for them in the family. Anuja has an overbearing father; Neha, an abusive brother. But over this conversation, they each understand why their mothers behaved that way. We nod our heads too knowing that, at times, surviving can be the most courageous thing to do. It is this survival against insurmountable odds that takes centrestage in the ironically-titled Sony LIV film, Welcome Home.

Written by Ankita Narang and based on a true story, Welcome Home might seem like a gritty chamber drama, but it is also an affecting commentary on patriarchy. What's most impressive about the film is how well it works as just a survival drama even if one doesn't understand the subtext. Anuja and Neha are teachers at a government school in Nagpur. They are clubbed together for census duty and visit that ill-fated home where a heavily pregnant Prerna (Tina Bhatia) reveals shocking details about her life in the most chillingly nonchalant way. We see Prerna being controlled by Amma, the matriarch of the house. We come across Bhola (Boloram Das), a lecherous cook who is clearly up to no good. We are told about Ghanshyam, a mounvrat-holding middle-aged man who is responsible for multiple pregnancies of Prerna. There is an overall sinister vibe to the proceedings, and the teacher duo go down a treacherous path trying to help Prerna out of this misery.

The path has grotesque, bone-crushing violence that is somehow both compelling and squeamish. The violence meted out against the women of Welcome Home isn't always physical. If two women are held against their will, there is a woman who doesn't understand free will anymore. Even Anuja and Neha are not exactly aware of what it feels like to be truly independent. Though self-sufficient and employed, each women is forced to act according to the whims of either a brother or a father or a fiance. Now, is this why both of them risk it all to return to save Prerna? Do they see their own mothers or their own futures in her? The film poses such questions on the ground realities faced by seemingly empowered women. An inappropriate proposition being turned down results in slut-shaming. An earnest plea about a woman's urge to work and be independent turns into a misogynistic lecture on a woman's rightful place. So when does a woman actually free herself of the shackles that are enforced upon her at every turn? Even if these questions don't occur to the audience, it is pretty much guaranteed that they will enjoy this nail-biting thriller.

WELCOME HOME
Director: Pushkar Sunil Mahabal
Cast: Kashmira Irani, Swarda Thigale, Boloram Das, Shashi Bhushan, Tina Bhatia
Director: Pushkar Sunil Mahabal
Out on: Sony LIV
RATING 3/5

Another fascinating aspect of Welcome Home is how this isn't a film where the women are waiting for men to come and rescue them. That doesn't mean this is an NH 10 where Anushka Sharma takes up the cudgels. In Welcome Home, Anuja feels her mom will be the best person to help her. Neha, even when afraid of what would happen inside the house, is equally worried about how her brother would react to her absence. During this struggle for survival, we see how ingrained patriarchy is in women. With such disturbing themes, this is a film that could have easily become overwhelming if not for the measured performances. There is a level of poignancy both Kashmira and Swarda bring to their characters who go through a gamut of emotions. The unassuming evilness of Shashi and Boloram unnerves us and makes us hope against hope that nothing happens to Anuja and Neha. Special mention to cinematographer Saee Hope and composer Meghdeep Bose for wonderfully reflecting the fluctuation between calmness and chaos.

While a case can be made against the excessive violence in Welcome Home, it cannot be written off here as just another offshoot of the freedom offered by OTT. The ugly head of patriarchy can come in various ways. It could have a bushy beard. It could have a calm demeanour. It could be propped up on a crutch. It could sport a derisive smile. But, if patriarchy does rear its ugly head at women determined to shape their own futures, then it is okay to cut it right off... and such bloodshed is definitely warranted.
